

RICHARD COLE IS RE-ELECTED FIRE PRESIDENT

Richard M. Cole was re-elected president of the Gettysburg Fire Department Wednesday evening at the annual election meeting of the organization.

Harold W. Culp was renominated as vice-president; Eugene S. Sickles, recording secretary; Donald Hamers, financial secretary; Paul B. Fox, treasurer; Donald W. McSherry, chief; Donald E. Staub, first assistant chief; Francis I. Linn, second assistant chief, and Rufus Reaver, equipment foreman. Eugene Miller was named as chaplain and Richard C. Cole and Thomas Cole, sons of the president, delegates to the Firemen's Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania.

Raymond Menges reported income of $1,170.50 from the November turkey party held by the firemen. The money goes into the equipment fund of the organization, which previously had totalled $5,000.

Vote On Banquet

With the firemen voting to hold the annual Firemen's banquet in January, President Cole appointed as the committee in charge Francis Smith, Cyril Staub, Chester Small, John Codori, and David Tawney.

Fire Chiefs McSherry, Staub and Linn were named as a committee, with authority to act in the sale of the former radio transmitter of the department, which has been replaced by a more powerful unit. The chiefs were authorized to sell the transmitter to any fire company in the county at any terms which they may wish to arrange.

The firemen voted to hold the annual ladies night banquet in February, with President Cole to appoint the committee in charge at a later date.

One hundred large calendars with fire information were presented the firemen by R. W. Wentz and Sons. The firemen plan to place the calendars "in spots where they will be most useful."

Tellers for the election were Emory Strausbaugh, Robert Shriver and Richard Pinkbourn. Named to the duty roster for January were Lawrence Grot, Nelson Grot, Glenn Guise, Sebastian Hafer, Lavere Hamme and Donald Hamers.

SEVEN COUPLES GET LICENSES

The following marriage licenses have been issued by the clerk of courts:

Kenneth Lee Fink of Leveittown, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron H. Fink, of Phillipsburg, and Emma Rachel Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Lester Scott, Baltimore, Md.

Clair Daniel Shultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alden H. Shultz, of Orrtanna, Pa., and Jane Louise Bobo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour J. Bobo, of Fairfield.

James Benedict Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis L. Smith, Hanover, Pa., and Shirley Ann Markle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin C. Markle, of Hanover.

Robert Leroy Thieret, of Paradise Twp., son of Samuel Thieret, of Hanover, and the late Beulah M. Thieret and Jean Irene Sterner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah W. Sterner, of Spring Grove, Pa.

William Franklin Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Lehman, of York Springs, and Mildred La Rue Fuss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Fuss, of Dillsburg, Pa.

Mervin Daniel Weikert Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin D. Weikert Sr., of Gettysburg, Pa., and Helen Frances Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Martin, Gettysburg, Pa.

Richard Karl Falk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Falk, of Harrisburg, and Lucy Mae Baugher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Baugher, of Aspers.

Bank Declares 7 Per Cent Dividend

The Bendersville National Bank directors Tuesday declared a 7 per cent dividend on its 7,500 shares of stock, which brings the dividends paid by the bank this year to 12 per cent.

Nothing that 1955 is the "best year" in the bank's history, the directors said they hope to pay 12 per cent per year dividends indefinitely, when their summation of the economic conditions to be expected in the Bendersville area seemed to assure that the prosperity will continue.

The bank had been paying 10 per cent dividends on the 7,500 shares of $10 par capital stock. The last sale of the stock brought more than $38 per share.

The directors also added $25,000 to the bank's surplus bringing that amount to $225,000.

Sing Carols In Square Tonight

Carolers — 400 strong — from Gettysburg College and High School will salute President and Mrs. Eisenhower, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, and his staff members of the White House press corps this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Lincoln Square. The choir will be under the direction of Parker B. Wagnild and Paul Grove and will be accompanied by an eight-piece high school brass choir under the direction of Robert Zeigler.

Burgess William G. Weaver will open the Christmas program promptly at 7:30 p.m. by turning on the Christmas lights. After the carol singing Santa Claus will be escorted to Santa's Shanty by members of the Jaycees, following a trip around the square to pick up mail from youngsters present.

SCHOLA CHOIR GIVES CONCERT ON WEDNESDAY

An altar banked with poinsettias and candles formed a Christmas setting for the Christmas program presented by the Schola Cantorum of Mount St. Mary's Seminary Wednesday evening in the College Chapel, Emmitsburg, before a large audience.

Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. O'Donnell, rector of the seminary, opened the program with a sermon in which he compared the vision of sight "by which we see the beautiful things of creation to the vision of faith by which we see the truths relating to eternity."

William Ward, lector, read the Christmas Story by St. Luke. The lights were extinguished in the chapel, one by one, with the only light provided by altar candles and the lighted crib near the sanctuary.

Under the direction of Rev. Fr. David W. Shaum, the 16-voice choir opened the program with "Hark! The Vesper Hymn is Stealing," from the Russian. Paul Jenkins, organist, played Boellmann's "Prayer to Our Lady" from the Suite Gothique. "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach contrasted with the rhythmic motion of Work's "Go Tell It On the Mountain," featuring the choir's tenor soloist, Jerome Leary.

Plays Violin Solo
"Quia Fecit Mihi Magna Qui Potens Est" and "Sicut Locutus Est" followed. Paul Harrigan was the soloist. Violinist Joseph Chalkley played "Silent Night" and accompanied the choir in several selections. Mozart's "Gloria" from the Twelfth Mass brought the program to a close.

Monsignor O'Donnell officiated at solemn benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. He was assisted by Rev. Mr. Charles Procopio, deacon; Rev. Mr. Rosser Muir, sub-deacon; and Rev. Mr. Joseph Devlin, deacon of exposition.

The seminary choir includes the following tenors: John Brusceini, John Butler, Thomas Carulaza, Joseph Gorecki, William Hart, Jerome Leary, John Lipinski, Frederick Myers, Carl Steknon, and Joseph Young. The basses are Edward Coady, William Friend, Paul Harrigan, Augustine Moore, Martin Muller and Bart Wassmansdorf.

The ushers were members of the St. John Berchman Society.

REV. GOBRECHT TALKS AT DINNER IN LITTLESTOWN

"Calamity hollers all over the world. For years we have heard of wars and rumors of wars and then the atomic bomb came and people are afraid. We have even heard talk of an invasion from Mars," the Rev. Dr. Lloyd C. Gobrecht, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, Elwood City, Pa., said Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the personal dinner of the Littlestown Joint School System at the Rolling Acres Elementary School.

"The trouble with that man and the trouble with the people in the world who are crying the blues is they have that which smells too close to their noses. They stack that which is unpleasant close around themselves. What we should do for such people is to put something pleasant under their noses and gently nudge them awake to a wonderful world."

"There is a reason for everything — if you can find it. Every one looks at life from a different angle and we never know what the other fellow is thinking. But there is something funny about every situation. If we could smile a little more the world would be full of smiles. I hope we get to the place in this world where people

DAVID SANDOE PLACES FIRST IN BIGLER CONTEST

Three lifelike deer, Santa Claus looking out from a porch, an angel in a window, and an infant in a crib, and a concealed loudspeaker broadcasting Christmas carols won for David E. Sandoe, E. York St., first prize for Christmas scenes Wednesday evening in the annual Home Decorations Contest at Biglerville sponsored by the Biglerville Business Club.

The display was the most elaborate of any and was one of the most elaborate contrived by Sandoe, who has been a consistent winner of awards in the Biglerville events.

The display at the home of Charles Stock received the second prize, Albert Kane was third and Sherman Roe won fourth place. The awards for scenes were $20 first, $15 second, $10 third and $5 fourth. Honorable mentions were received by Paul Clapsaddle, Mrs. Alma Warner and Sterling Roth.

Overall Lighting Winners

The first prize for overall lighting, $20, went to Paul Wagner, where the judges were of the opinion that if the home did not secure enough points for a winning prize in the overall effect, it should win for an outstanding doorway. The point score tally at the end of the tour or more than 70 decorated homes however showed Wagner winner in the overall effect.

Second prize of $15, overall lighting, went to John Stallsmith and William Kennedy, who live in a double house and joined to decorate the house. Third prize, $10, was awarded to Bruce Sheets and fourth prize, $5, to J. W. Beidler. Honorable mention went to Henry Donhart, Dean Carey and Charles Raffensperger.

Earl Garretson, with a small golden Christmas tree as the principal decoration, spotlights and a scene over the doorway won first prize of $10 for decorated doorways. Clair Shillito was awarded second prize of $5 and Harold Smallwood, third prize, $3.

Honorable mention for doorways went to Ellis Campbell, Rev. Lawrence Rohrbaugh and Russel Hackman.

The judges, William Lentz, Bernard W. Miller and G. Henry Roth, each scored the homes independently, using a ten point system. The points given each home by the three judges were added, and the awards were allotted to those homes with the highest score.

Kenneth S. Alwine and J. Roy Diehl Jr., chairmen of the committee in charge, accompanied the judges.

OFFICERS ARE NOMINATED BY BUSINESS CLUB

William Lerew was nominated Wednesday evening for president of the Biglerville Business Club at a dinner meeting of the organization held at Ditzler's Restaurant.

A. L. Lenard was nominated for vice president; Harold Smallwood, secretary, and the Biglerville National Bank, treasurer.

The nominations were submitted by a committee comprising Oscar Rice Jr., Lloyd W. Kleinfelter and Kenneth S. Alwine. Additional nominations will be asked from the floor at the January meeting after which the election will be held in accordance with the club bylaws.

The election meeting will be held the second Wednesday in January at Ditzler's Restaurant.

Christmas Parade
President Paul P. Osborn presided Wednesday evening. Much of the discussion concerned the Christmas parade, decorations and home decorations contest sponsored by the business club.

Reports on donations indicated that the club is still short of the amount needed to cover expenses but are "coming in better than last year" and the organization hopes sufficient additional donations will be made to cover the cost of the Christmas programs.

A general discussion was held on the parade, with the members noting a number of suggestions for improvement of the handling of the affair for another year.

Lloyd Kump, Biglerville barber, was admitted as a new member of the club.

Weishaar Appoints Two Co-Chairmen

Glenn F. Weishaar, chairman of the committee in charge of the observance of the 93rd anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg for the Gettysburg Fire Department, today announced the appointment of his two co-chairmen: Paul Anzenberger and Harold Settle.

Weishaar said the entire roster of committees for the forthcoming observance will be announced in about ten days.

Everybody welcome. Turkey Bingo, VFW Home, Friday December 16, 8 p.m.

Prize-Winning Christmas Scene

The Christmas scene at the home of David E. Sandoe, E. York St., Biglerville, won a $20 first prize in the annual Christmas Home Decorations Contest held Wednesday evening by the Biglerville Business Club. In addition to the outstanding decoration, Sandoe also had a concealed loudspeaker through which Christmas carols were played.

XMAS PROGRAM TO BE PRESENTED IN BIGLERVILLE

The annual Christmas program will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Trinity-Bender's Evangelical Reformed Church, Biglerville.

Included on the program will be: Prelude, Mrs. John A. Lawver, church organist; hymn, "Joy to the World," congregation; children program by the Nursery, Kindergarten, Primary, Junior and Junior High classes of the Church School — welcome, Ronald Ecker; songs, Primary classes; exercise, "Merry Christmas Messengers," Jane Orner, George Orner, Cathy Miller, Susan Kuykendall, George Snubury, Terry Shull, Leslie Eckengrude; recitation, "Christmas Joy," Ronnie Warner and Jimmy Orner; exercise, "First Christmas," Clara Miller, Cathy Miller, Ivan Warner, Freda Kuykendall, Janet Orner, Anna Kuykendall, Susie Kuykendall, Diana Trussell, Jimmy Logan, Lynn Kuykendall, Dwight Shull, Gary Cluck, Robert Campbell.

Duet, Diana Trussell and Roger Heller; exercise, "Candles for Christmas," Anna Kuykendall, Joan Warner, Freda Kuykendall, Janet Orner, Gerald Cleveland, Robert Campbell, Glenn Kuykendall; offering; announcements.

Play by the Adult Church School, "A Legend of the Christmas," by Mattie E. Shannon, with reader, Mrs. Henry Lower; "Martha," Mrs. Dorothy Cogley; "Greta," Louise Lawver; big brother, Harold Cleveland; little sister, Jane Lawver; "Granny," Mrs. Cameron Funt; "Mimi," Mrs. Larry Lawver; voice of town crier, Gerald Heller; beggar lad, Larry Hoke; Christmas angel, Mrs. Donald March. The Youth Choir will sing carols throughout the play.

The program will close with the congregation singing "Silent Night" and the benediction by the pastor, the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz.

Police Seek Love-Crazed Boy Who Murdered Parents And Uncle Of Young Girl

VANDERGRIFT, Pa. (AP) — A love-sick youth who killed three people last night and shot a policeman when wounded this morning was trapped and captured by state police a short time after the second shooting.

VANDERGRIFT, Pa. (AP) — Police searched rugged countryside near here today for a 17-year-old crazed high school junior who shot and killed the parents and uncle of the girl who spurned him.

Slain in their farm home last night 30 miles northeast of Pittsburgh were J. Warren Small, 44, a gas well driller; his wife, Irene, 35, and William A. Small, 49, brother of J. Warren Small.

The girl who police say was the center of the tragedy was shot and seriously wounded. She is 15-year-old Gladys Small.

Police named John Fallone as the slayer. Nearly a score of officers from all sections of western Pennsylvania searched for him. They were warned he may be hard to capture — that he was carrying the .22 caliber automatic rifle with which he cut down members of the Small family.

Threatened Their Lives
Gladys didn't lose consciousness in her ambulance ride to the hospital. Sobbing, she said:

"I went to a dance with him (Fallone) about a year ago. He got serious and wouldn't let me talk to other boys. He wanted me for himself. My parents finally forbade me to see him. Then he threatened us, said 'I'll get all of you some day.'"

Police got their first word of the impending tragedy when Justice of the Peace Homer King, 36, a neighbor of the Smalls, phoned for help. Later, King told this story:

William A. Small, a bullet wound in his foot, came to the King home. He said Fallone was terrorizing the family and had brought a carton of dynamite into the house, along with his rifle.

After notifying police, King rode with Small about two miles back to the house.

Flee To Safety
"After we stopped, Small got out on the left side and me on the right side," he said. "Just then Fallone came out of the house and he started firing. He hit Small twice and killed him. I went running back of the car. I don't think Fallone saw me. I ran all the way home. My God, that boy might have killed me, too."

When police reached the house they found J. Warren Small and

Damage Totals $260 In Auto Accident

Damage totalled $260 and no one was injured in an accident 1 1/2 miles west of New Oxford on the Lincoln highway at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

State police said James F. Goodling, 37, Manchester R. 1, was headed east, operating a furniture truck owned by J. D. Leonard, York, and started to pass a state highway department truck at the same moment John W. Basehore, 21, E. Middle St. was passing the truck.

Basehore's car collided with the truck and then struck a guard rail. Damage to his vehicle was listed as $250. The truck driver continued on, police said. Goodling told police that he had not known he was in an accident.

Refill Skating Pond When Dirt Ruins Surface

Gettysburg firemen who refilled the Recreation Field Skating Pond Wednesday afternoon and evening have asked parents of children to caution their youngsters against tossing stones, sticks and dirt onto the frozen surface of the pond.

Water in the pond had frozen, but was unusable for skating, the firemen said, because of the great quantity of dirt and debris tossed upon it. The firemen Wednesday added additional water which filled the pond to the brim, in order to have a level surface for skating.

Such a remedy cannot be employed again because the pond is now full, firemen said in urging cooperation of parents in keeping the surface clean for skating.

G. W. Lefever, president of the Recreation Board, and Donald Peters, who has been in charge of the skating pond project, joined in the appeal today to parents to permit their children to go to the

GLENN JACOBS AGAIN TO HEAD COUNTY GROUP

Glenn Jacobs, East Berlin R. 1, was re-elected president of the Township Supervisors and Township Auditors, Assessors and Tax Collectors Association of Adams County at the thirty-eighth annual convention Wednesday in the court house.

John R. Taylor, Aspers R. 1, was renamed vice president; Ervin J. Baker, East Berlin R. 2, secretary; Mearl Heikes, East Berlin R. 1, treasurer. Elected delegates to the state convention were: President Jacobs, Secretary Baker and Treasurer Heikes. A. H. Starnes, Gardner R. 2, and Emory Sibert, New Oxford R. 2, were elected alternate delegates.

Justices of the peace apparently are going to find more auditors visiting them judging by the questions which followed a statement by H. A. Thomson, secretary of the state association of supervisors.

Some Not Audited

Discussing proposed increases in the rates paid the township auditors, Thomson asserted that the law is to be changed to spell out the amount of time constituting a "day" for payment of the auditors as at least an aggregate of five hours. Some auditors observed that it didn't take five hours. Thomson said the township account, tax collector's account, justices of the peace accounts, etc., could not be audited in less than five hours, if a complete audit is made. That led a tax collector to announce that his account had never been audited. Thomson said that some auditors could be fined for failing to perform their duty.

In the discussion Thomson said that auditors, to do their job, must also audit the accounts of justices of the peace in other districts than their own who may levy fines on motor code violations in which the fine should go to the township of the particular auditors.

Get Police Records

Several auditors said, "We have no justice of the peace in our township, the motor code violations go to Gettysburg. Should we audit the accounts of the justices of the peace there also?"

Thomson said they should, adding that the state police keep a record of all arrests, which is available to auditors of the townships, from which they can determine which fines should have been paid to their township.

The state supervisors' secretary added: "You are not the only auditors who have failed to do this. There have been many. Generally when auditors start to do a real job of auditing for their township,

College Seeks Federal Help To Speed Dormitories, Dining Hall; Faculty, Staff Get Salary Raise

So everything happens to you? Maybe you just think it does. For instance:

Have you been shot by your car door? By your dog? By a fish?

Have you swallowed your toothbrush? Has your dog driven your automobile? Ditto your two-year-old son or daughter?

Have you proudly named your place Dew Drop Inn, only to do just that — into the lake? All these odd little happenings and many others were uncovered by the National Safety Council in its annual roundup of freak accidents.

Here's a rundown on some of the dizzy doings in 1955, as reported by Paul Jones, director of public information for the Council: had hoped his hunting trip would turn up something special. It did. He got shot by his car door. Gene was getting out of the car when a gust of wind blew the door shut on his coat pocket. In the pocket was a rifle shell. Bang! You can bet the next hunt will find Gene astride a good old-fashioned doorless horse.

Gene Scott, of Rushville, Neb.

In New Liberty, Iowa, 12-year-old David Dahl placed his rifle against a ladder in the barn and started to climb to the loft. His dog Terry jumped on the ladder, struck the rifle trigger with his paw, and shot his ascending master just below the hayloft.

Some fish stories are greeted by raised eyebrows. But when Bobby Bright, of Gonzales, Tex., reported that he had been shot by a fish, no one could doubt him. He had the fish, the gun and the wound to prove it! A freshly caught catfish flopped around in the bottom of Bobby's boat, struck the trigger of his rifle and shot him in the arm.

And in Detroit, Mrs. Dorothy Gazyen brushed her teeth so vigorously she swallowed the toothbrush. Fortunately, she had another.

At least two dogs tried their paw at driving an automobile in 1955 — a Doberman pinscher in Fort Wayne, Ind., and a boxer in Black River Falls, Wis. Both ended up by crashing into Substantial salary increases for all members of the faculty and staff of Gettysburg College and proposed plans for rapid advancement of the college's building program were announced by John S. Rice, chairman of the college's board of trustees, at a Christmas dinner for trustees and faculty members and their wives Wednesday evening at Huber Hall. About 200 persons attended.

The salary increases, which will be retroactive to September of this year, were voted at the winter meeting of the board of trustees held Tuesday at the Union League at Philadelphia.

Chairman Rice also told the gathering that the board of trustees hopes to have a new college president ready to take over his duties by next September. He said there is not yet any one ready to be recommended to the board of trustees for final action as the next president but there is every hope that the college will have a new prexy before it opens in the fall of 1956.

Plan $900,000 Bond Issue

Mr. Rice, who presided over the dinner program, disclosed that the college has made a preliminary application to the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the federal government for about $900,000 with which the college would erect the two remaining men's dormitory units on Nixon Field and a new dining hall to seat 750 persons.

The dining hall would be built on the lot on the northwest corner of the intersection of W. Lincoln and College Aves. and would permit Huber Hall to be used exclusively as a women's dormitory.

The financing would be handled through a 40-year bond issue which the college would pay off from income from the buildings to be constructed with the money. The federal agency was created to assist colleges in providing certain revenue producing facilities including dormitories and dining halls. The bonds would be bought by the government and amortized over the 40-year period.

May Start In 6 Months

If the federal financing plan is executed, Chairman Rice said it is hoped that construction work can begin within six months. Test drillings are being made currently on the site of the proposed second unit of men's dormitories along W. Lincoln Ave. preliminary to the awarding of the contract for that structure.

All members of the board of trustees excepting one were present Wednesday for the Christmas dinner which was given by the A. L. Mathias Company of Baltimore "for the faculty and trustees in honor of the Interim Committee." The Mathias company operates the college cafeteria in Huber Hall.

The salary increases announced Wednesday have no connection with the grant of Ford Foundation funds to the college, announced earlier this week, it was explained.

VFW WILL HOLD ANNUAL KIDDY PARTY TUESDAY

The annual Christmas party for children of members will be held by the local VFW Post and its Auxiliary next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the post home on E. Middle St., it was announced Wednesday evening at a meeting at the home.

There will be entertainment for the youngsters and Santa Claus will present each child with a treat.

District Commander Floyd Hamm, Dover; District Membership chairman Thomas Mitchell and District Adjutant Saylor, Red Lion, made their official visit to the post Wednesday and spoke briefly. They said a district meeting will be held in Gettysburg Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

To Aid Polio Drive
Post Commander John Rummel announced tentative plans for a "Blue Crutch" program in the VFW posts of the county to help raise funds for the March of Dimes in January.

Quartermaster Patrick D. McDermitt reported the tentative organization of a Adams County "Pup Tent" of the Order of Coonies — a fun group of the VFW. Twenty-nine members of the Gettysburg, Littlestown and East Berlin VFW posts have joined the "pup tent" so far, McDermitt said. Allen Moul, East Berlin, has been named as temporary commander pending the arrival of a charter from national headquarters and formal establishment of the new organization.

PRESIDENT IS RESTING AFTER WORK AT FARM

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower worked for more than an hour at his farm today, then took it easy in anticipation of a complete physical examination Saturday and a brief Christmas broadcast to the nation Sunday.

The President conferred with the White House staff secretary, Col. Andrew Goodpastor, did some dictating and then called a halt to further official activities for the day.

The White House said he and Mrs. Eisenhower would not attend tonight's lighting up of a Christmas display in Lincoln Square and surrounding streets of Gettysburg.

Several Promotions

At today's work session Eisenhower accorded the diplomatic rank of Minister to Frederick E. Neuling, Jr., political advisor to the chief of the U. S. Mission to NATO; John D. Jernegan, deputy chief of mission American embassy, Rome; Frederic P. Bartlett, deputy chief of mission, American embassy, New Delhi; and Herve J. L'Heureux, U. S. Consul General at Montreal.

The President also approved the promotion of Rear Adm. Stuart S. Murray to Vice Admiral while he is serving as naval inspector general.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty today denied knowledge of any assurance given New Hampshire Republicans that President Eisenhower will not bow out of that state's primary before it is held March 13.

Unaware Of Report

"That's the first time I knew of it," Hagerty said when shown a news dispatch saying such an assurance has been given the New Hampshire GOP by an administration lieutenant.

Hagerty was asked at a news conference if he could conceive of such an assurance being given by Eisenhower's chief aide, Sherman Adams, who was Governor of New Hampshire before moving to the White House post.

"I can't conceive of anything," Hagerty replied. "I haven't had an opportunity to talk with Gov. Adams."

He added under further questioning that he expected he'd be talking with Adams later in the day, but he did not indicate he would check the New Hampshire report.

Shortage Threatens H-Bomb For Peace

CLEVELAND (AP)—The "race" to tame the H-bomb reaction for peacetime power could be lost to Russia or some other nation unless the United States overcomes a "mounting shortage" of manpower in every field of science and engineering, says the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In fact, declared Lewis L. Strauss last night, the shortage has become so "grim" that "all of our blessings, even our freedom, would be endangered."

Saturday: Miss Christine E. Meyer, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Meyer, Baltimore street, was married Saturday evening to Edward J. Nowicki Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Nowicki, of Easthampton, Long Island. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. T. Sutcliffe, at Taneytown.

Butt Elected Chairman Of Co. Democrats: F. X. Colgan, of McSherrystown, chairman of the Adams county democratic committee, associate judge of the county courts and director of the state bureau of corporations, was ousted from his political post as chairman of the party at a surprise meeting of committeemen in the court house Saturday evening. District Attorney John P. Butt was elected county chairman by sixty members of the group after the remaining members of the committee had bolted from the room in opposition to the ouster proceedings.

Miss Elizabeth Boyer Wins $250 In Cash As Campaign's Big Prize: Gettysburg And Adams County's "Better Business Campaign" Is Ended: The most successful and outstanding commercial enterprise held in this county for many years ended Saturday evening with the drawing for the $500 in cash awards. Seventy-two merchants participated in the campaign. The winners were Miss Elizabeth Boyer, Arendtsville, $250; K. L. Hankey, York Springs, $100; Walter J. Reynolds, 12 Seminary St., $75; F. H. Bream, Biglerville, $25; Mrs. Isaac Kemper, Gettysburg R. 2, $25 and Mrs. Fred Greco, Gettysburg R. 2, $25.

Luther I. Sachs Given Contract To Construct New High School Annex: Luther I. Sachs, Gettysburg contractor and hardware store proprietor, was awarded the contract for the construction of a nine-room addition and a new gymnasium at the Gettysburg high school building. The school board at its meeting Friday evening said that three contractors submitted bids for the construction of two wings to the present high school structure, and that Mr. Sachs was the lowest bidder.

Mr. Sachs' bid included $31,872 for the construction of the nine room addition and $34,027 for the gymnasium, a total of $65,899. Bids let for heating and ventilating, $11,542.82; electrical work, $4,166 and plumbing, $3,461, plus architect's fees of $4,253.44 show the new wings will cost, $89,322.26.

Fish And Game Group Appoints 1956 Officers: Officers to serve during 1956 were nominated without opposition at the December meeting of the Adams County Fish and Game Association at the Eagle hotel Friday evening.

The officers, who will be formally elected at the January meeting, follow: F. Mark Bream, president; Moses Bair, vice president; Prof. Ira Y. Baker, secretary; John Sheffer, assistant secretary; John S. Ogden, treasurer, and D. J. Forney, Moses Bair, Monroe J. Dellinger, C. K. Gilbert and Norman Tipton, members of the governing board.

Plan To Make Clothes As A WPA Project: Sponsored by the Adams county board of directors of the poor, a sewing project for 27 women who will make clothing for families on relief is expected to get underway shortly, Edgar K. Markley, Esq., solicitor of the poor board, announced today.

Sewing rooms, fully equipped with sewing machines, buttonholers, irons and other necessary machinery will be opened in Gettysburg and McSherrystown, Mr. Markley said.

The federal government, which suggested the project to the poor board through the state W.P.A. office, has allocated $23,835 for the project.

H. M. Weigle Again Heads Fruit Growers: H. M. Weigle, of Aspers, was re-elected president of the Adams county fruit growers association at the December meet-

Today's Talk

SELF EDUCATION
There is one thing to be said of self education that is important. When a person educates himself, he does it because of a desire to know more and to gain that knowledge pleasantly and happily. Too many girls get what is termed a high school, or college, education merely by "going through" a school.

The most useful thing learned in any institution is that of learning to think. We ought to learn early in life how to consult and criticize ourselves. We must ask of ourselves how we are doing, and are we educating ourselves beyond anything studied in school? All about us is life — the big schoolroom where all knowledge is to be displayed before us for so long as we live.

It is not our business to teach others, but to tell them of what we have learned. How eagerly we listen to someone whose knowledge is superior to our own! We should be our own apt student! That great bronze figure by Rodin, "The Thinker," is a wonderful work of art, for, though still and solid, it makes us think! Our best thoughts are those that come solely to us as individuals, or that have been passed to us in crude state for us to mold into practical form.

Emerson as a philosopher, Thoreau as a naturalist and lover of the wild, and Lafcadio Hearn as an artist in beautiful prose style are examples of those who used their gift of thinking. It is thinking that enables us to grow and gain interests. And if this is gained through self education it is something that we can use as an armor to meet any emergency in life.

A great deal is said about the "self-made" man or woman. There is something better than that. Most of us are other made. Something is to be learned from every person with whom we come in contact, or from whose books we have read. Knowledge is all about us, ready to be plucked, like ripe fruit. Many of our greatest thinkers educated themselves, never having "graduated" from any traditional school!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Awards"

THE NEIGHBORS' PRESCRIPTIONS

The doctor tells us what to do, And thinks that he can pull us through.

He leaves us tonics, powders, pills, To cure us of our various ills.

But when the doctor goes away We do what some one else may say.

A neighbor woman tells us what Relieved her husband's pain a lot.

Aunt Emmeline comes in to tell Just what made Uncle Jimmy well.

And some one else prescribes a cure That is immediate and sure.

We pay the doctor's usual fee, But seldom take his remedy.

When ill, we are a funny tribe; We like the neighbors to prescribe.

LITTLESTOWN: The following officers were elected at a meeting of the Ever Willing Sunday School Class of St. John's Lutheran Church Tuesday evening in the church social hall: President, Mrs. Shirley Reamer; secretary, Mrs. Janice Myers, and treasurer, Mrs. Mary Beamer.

A covered dish supper and Christmas party preceded the business meeting. Mrs. Viola Badders, class teacher, gave the invocation; there was a song service; Christmas story by Mrs. Ruthanna Starnier; prayer, Mrs. Rita Greene; vocal solo, Mrs. Anna Weaver; readings, Mrs. Janet Reaver, Mrs. Eleanor Treasler and Mrs. Myrtle Leister; vocal duet, Mrs. June Rife and Mrs. Mary Beamer. Gifts were exchanged and class pals for 1956 were chosen. The class will meet again on January 10.

Thirty five members and two visitors were present at the Christmas party held by the Woman's Centenary Methodist Church Tuesday evening at the church. The program was in charge of Mrs. Mary Byers. Carols were sung. A reading, "Togs of the Wisemen," was given by Mrs. Leslie Yohn. Plans were made to hold a family party Sunday evening at the church.

Gifts were exchanged and secret sisters revealed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bertha Shull, Mrs. Nellie Shadle, Mrs. Helen Arter, Mrs. Edith Hanlon and Mrs. Margaret Howell. The WSCS will meet again on January 10 at the church, and the hostesses will be Mrs. Paul Randall, Mrs. B. R. Mellett and Mrs. Wilbur Barton.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Eagles will sponsor a public party Friday at 8 p.m. at the Eagles home.

A service of special music will be held in the Southern Methodist Church on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The service will include a quartet from the Eastern Pilgrims College, Allentown. A congregational meeting will follow in charge of Rev. R. R. Kunkle, district superintendent.

The Duke University football team of 1936 was not scored against in regular season play. But the Blue Devils lost the Rose Bowl game to the University of Southern California, 7-3, on a pass in the final 40 seconds.

DIONES MEET IN HOSPITAL

MONTREAL — Two of the Dionne quintuplets are patients in a suburban Montreal hospital where the other two surviving quintas are taking nurses' training. They were all described yesterday as being "in a happy mood."

Annette, who had been a student in a Nicolet, Que., school, entered the Hospital Notre Dame de l'Esperance in Ville St. Laurent Dec. 3 for an examination. Marie was admitted Nov. 26 for treatment after leaving a Quebec City convent where she had been training as a postulant. Yvonne and Cecile already were training as nurses at the hospital.

The fifth quint, Emilie, died last year.

Suffer From Nerves
Hospital authorities refused to discuss the condition of Marie and Annette except to say they are suffering from a nervous condition and need rest and privacy.

One doctor said Marie was tired and a little weak when she entered the hospital but added she is "much better now." He also said Annette needed rest when she was admitted.

"Dr. G. Cousineau, hospital medical director, said: 'It is a perfect atmosphere for them, united with their sisters. They are almost in a gay mood.'"

The hospital reported that the 65-year-old senator was "resting comfortably." He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance yesterday after being stricken in one of the Senate conference rooms.

His previous attack occurred June 10 and he was absent from the Senate for 2½ months.

STATE CENTER BIDS TOO HIGH

HARRISBURG — Unofficial low bids totaling $7,464,809 for construction of the state's first rehabilitation center near Johnstown were ready for consideration by the General State Authority today. More than 75 proposals were received yesterday on 12 phases of construction work and for permanent equipment of the center.

The authority had allocated only $6,173,550 for the job.

Decision Delayed
John S. Forker, executive director of the authority, said it is doubtful whether any decision will be made on "what further action will be taken" for several days. The authority's technical staff will go over the bids.

The center, to retain persons physically incapacitated by accident or disease, will be built in Upper Yoder Twp., Cambria County.

It will be operated by the state Board of Vocational Education of the Rehabilitation Bureau of the Department of Labor and Industry.

Initial enrollment will be 300 students with provision for expansion of the facilities to accommodate 400.

Senate Okays Beer In State Ball Parks

HARRISBURG — A proposal to allow the sale of beer in major league baseball parks in Pennsylvania on weekdays carried Senate approval today.

Democrats and Republicans joined forces last night to pass the measure 27-20 and send it to the House. It would amend the state liquor law to permit the sale of malt and brewed beverages on weekdays in parks with 25,000 or more seating capacity.

The bill would provide for issue of special $100 permits which would be in effect for one baseball season. The beverage, however, would have to be served in paper cups.

FEPC Amendment Rueturns To Senate

HARRISBURG — A House-approved bill to amend the new fair employment practices law so workers may retire without coming under the ban on discrimination because of age was back in the Senate today for agreement on House changes.

A 196-0 vote returned the bipartisan sponsored and Senate-approved measure to the upper chamber yesterday.

HOUSE PASSES PAYMENT BILL

HARRISBURG — The Legislature's fourth 15 million dollar stop-gap appropriation for public assistance payments is ready for possible final Senate passage next week after receiving speedy House consideration.

The House yesterday sent the measure to the Senate by a vote of 196-0 without debate. The bill was introduced only last Monday.

It was given speedy Senate committee approval and sent to the floor for action next week.

Polen Sponsors Measure
Rep. J. Dean Polen (D-Washington), sponsor of the measure, said the 45 millions already given the Public Assistance Department will run out Jan. 10.

"I think there will be enough money in the General Fund to pay this appropriation through tax collections during January," he added.

The temporary aid is needed by the department because the tax deadline has held up passage of the department's full appropriation.

The money is used for general assistance and aid to blind and dependent children.

Undefeated Temple Quintet Breezes To Easy 72-53 Win Over Bullets On Wednesday

Temple University's nationally ranked basketball team breezed to an easy 72-53 victory over the outclassed Gettysburg College Bullets here Wednesday evening. The Owls hopped off to a 9-0 lead and maintained a comfortable lead the remainder of the game.

Many fans had a long wait for action as the starting time was set back to 8:30 without any previous public announcement.

The Owls, with superior height, speed and general all-around ability, used a 2-3 zone defense throughout. A pair of tricky speedsters, Hal Lear and Guy Rodgers, were the front men. They frequently moved far beyond the center of the court which left plenty of uncovered territory closer to the basket but the Bullets were unable to capitalize on the opportunities presented.

Bierly Breaks Ice

After Temple, unbeaten in four games, reeled off its 9-0 lead, Joe Bierly, Bullet center, landed a goal for the locals and added the next two twin-pointers.

Tink VanPatton, 6-8 center for the visitors, and Al Teti of the Bullets collided late in the first half and the former suffered a severe gash over his right eye which required nine stitches. Teti sustained a minor laceration and finished the game.

At half time the Owls built up a 54-26 lead via a late nine-point scoring spurge.

Coach Bob Davies' scrappy outfit fought desperately in the second half to get back into contention but never closed the gap closer than 11 points.

Rodgers and Lear combined for a total of 45 points for Temple.

The Bullets were paced by Teti who landed 18 points and Bierly who added 10. Dick Hockenbury turned in his usual fine rebound game and was credited with 16, tops for the game.

Gettysburg connected on 20 shots from the field in 61 tries. Temple made good on 27 of 65.

BIG STADIUM AND KEEN FANS BOOM PORTLAND

By FRANK ECK

AP Sports Editor
COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP) — Will Portland, Ore., become another Milwaukee in baseball?

The Beavers, a community-owned team, is moving from its 10,000-seat Vaughn Street Stadium to the Multnomah A.C. stadium which seats 32,000. It gives the team the largest minor league park in the country.

Commissioner Ford Frick has said in effect repeatedly "let the minors get the parks to seat big league crowds before they talk big league."

Portland isn't even talking big league franchise but it did big things in a big league way at the minor league baseball convention here.

Portland General Manager Joe Ziegler, who broke into the game with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1935 and helped run Triple A franchises at Sacramento, Rochester, Toronto and Buffalo, is promotion minded, having been graduated from the University of Missouri where he majored in journalism.

Will Be Ready

"We don't care about the future possibility of major league ball in Portland," says Ziegler. "But if the day comes we'll be out in front and ready with a big league ball park. All minor league parks in the United States are obsolete. We are spending

OPEN BIDS FOR NASHUA TODAY; OTHERS TO GO

NEW YORK (AP) — The future of Nashua, one of the greatest horses in American turf history, would well be decided today when sealed bids for the racing stock of the famous Belair Stud are opened.

"We will make a definite announcement around 4 p.m. if at all possible," said John W. Ludewig, one of the executors of the estate of William Woodward Jr. "Then again it might be necessary to consider the bids at some length before we reach a decision."

Ludewig said the executors have the right to refuse any bid. "We don't even know how many bids have been made for Nashua or the other racing stock," he said last night.

Mrs. Titus Haffa of Chicago said she had made a bid for Nashua but declined to say for how much. Various syndicates, including one headed by John W. Hancock of Lexington, Ky., also have been reported to be interested in purchasing the big son of Nasrullah, recently named the 3-year-old champion and horse of the year.

Four Categories

Under terms announced 10 days ago, the sale is divided into four categories: (1) Nashua; (2) nine other race horses and 12 yearlings; (3) 24 broodmares, including Segula, dam of Nashua, and 16 weanlings; and (4) the entire racing stable, including Nashua, and breeding stock in one package.

Woodward's interest in two stallions, Nasrullah and the 8-year-old Ambiorix, are not included in the sale. Neither is the 2,500-acre Belair Stud farm in Maryland.

Nashua has been valued at anywhere between half a million and a million dollars.

TURNER BEATS JACKIE LABUA

By OWEN CRUMB

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Gil Turner outpointed Jackie Labua in 10 rounds last night. But it looks as if Labua gained the most from the scrap.

For one thing, all the information that could be pieced together from assorted handlers indicated that Labua would meet Gene Fullmer in New York's Madison Square Garden on Jan. 6.

Turner had been slated for that bout with Fullmer. But Labua's persistent flicking left jab opened a cut over Turner's right eye and it appeared the cut might keep Turner out of action for at least a month.

Turner carried the fight to Labua but often found himself tricked out of a chance to land his hard right as Labua spun away while countering with his right. Turner weighed 154½, Labua 159.

Referee Joe Palmer scored the fight a draw 4-4 and even on points. Judge Ted Shiel had it 5-4-1 and Dick Albino 6-3-1, both in favor of Turner. The Associated Press card favored Turner 6-2-2.

a quarter of a million dollars and putting in 1,600 box seats right on the field in front of raised concrete stands.

"We even threw out the dog track and it was bringing $100,000 a year rental."

"The champion Dodgers have been wonderful because I've known their veev Buzze Buzzi for many years. It was he who recommended Tommy Holmes as our new manager, mainly because he has the big league background and personally knows most of the new Portland players and knows what they can do on and off the field."

"We think Portland may be another Milwaukee for fan interest."

Enthusiasm High
For enthusiasm, Ziegler is the closest personality to Larry MacPhail or Frank Lane that this writer ever encountered.

Five Portland business leaders, Cal Souther, Clay Brown, Arch Kingsley, Graham Griswold and Milo McIver, have given him a free hand in lining up new talent for the Bevos and in revamping MAC Stadium.

Seattle, tops in drawing 320,000 fans in 1955, is Portland's natural rival and Ziegler thinks his club now will draw 400,000. Oakland's move to Vancouver, B. C., he figures, is another attendance boom.

Ziegler points to Coos Bay, 240 miles away, to show the fan interest outside Portland. "That town has eight outdoor boxes for $1,000 and

FOUR BROOKLYN MEN SPARKING TAR HEEL FIVE

By BEN OLAN

The Associated Press
This, very definitely, must be Brooklyn's year.

The Flatbush victory influence is extending south to North Carolina, where the tall, talented Tar Heel basketball team is showing evidence of becoming one of the collegiate powers.

Frank McGuire, the N.C. coach, is a former St. John's of Brooklyn mentor, Lennie Rosenbluth, the team's high scorer, played high school ball in Brooklyn. Sophomore sensation Joe Quigg and forward Pete Brennan also come from Brooklyn.

McGuire's lads have won their first four games this season, hardly working up a sweat. Last night, Alabama, the nation's sixth-ranked team, was mowed down 99-77 by North Carolina's high-power attack. It was Alabama's first defeat in five starts. Rosenbluth dropped in 29 points.

Other Ball Games
In other games, second-ranked North Carolina State routed South Carolina 90-66. Dayton swamped Idaho 93-56. La Salle defeated Lafayette 95-81 and Richmond knocked off VMI 96-54 in a Southern Conference game.

Washington of St. Louis surprised Canisius 68-63 and St. Joseph's (Pa.) knocked Villanova from the unbeaten ranks 83-70. Purdue edged Loyola of Chicago 69-68 on Don Thurnburgh's jump shot in the last 10 seconds. Houston tripped Texas A&M 78-44.

North Carolina boosted its average to 88 points a game as the 6-foot-9 Quigg and Jerry Vayda complemented Rosenbluth's output with 18 points apiece. Brennan had 13.

N.C. State, which figures to give North Carolina the most trouble in its quest of the Atlantic Coast Conference championship forged ahead of South Carolina with three minutes left in the half and stayed there. The Wolfpack's 6-11 Bob Seitz and 6-9 Ron Shavlik poured in 46 points between them.

Dayton's Flyers, ranked seventh in the last Associated Press poll, had an easy time against Idaho for their fifth straight victory.

the boxes haven't been built yet. But we sure have the lumber men behind us," he says.

Healthiest Situation

"Why, we have the healthiest situation in all baseball. We are backed from top to bottom, all the way down to taxicab drivers and newsboys who own stock in the Club. There's even one 95-year-old woman who owns $5 worth of stock. And the radio that carries our games has 17 stations on its state network. We've got 30 ticket offices in the state to serve 1½ million people. And seven out of every 10 people in Oregon are 30 minutes or less from ticket offices."

Portland's Multnomah is famous nationally in sports for the MAC women's swimming teams. A kid must learn to swim before he can partake in other athletics. Before 1956 is over it would not be surprising if Ziegler put Portland out front on the minor league baseball map.

HINT STATE PROBE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Boxing Managers' Guild of Pennsylvania may undergo an investigation similar to the recent probe of the New York Guild. Alfred M. Klein, state athletic commissioner, said yesterday.

Klein said Commission Chairman James Crowley had asked New York Commissioner Julius Helfand for a copy of testimony in the New York investigation. As a result of that the New York Guild was ordered to disband.

Warriors Will Meet Delone Friday In Initial Home Tilt; JV Contest Begins At 6:45

Gettysburg High School makes its home basketball debut Friday evening when it entertains Delone Catholic of McSherrystown in a doubleheader. The preliminary game between the reserve teams will start at 6:45.

The Warriors inaugurated their season last Friday at Shippensburg where they lost a hard-fought game to the unbeaten Greyhounds 62-57. On the basis of their showing at Shippensburg, the Warriors are expected to improve on their 2-19 record of last year.

Among the probable starters for Coach George Porney against the Squires will be three lettermen, Merle Gorman, Glenn Weishaar and Rolf Johnson. Last week Johnson connected for 23 points in sparking the offense.

HUNTERS' GUNS MAKING NOISE NOW IN KOREA

By GENE KRAMER

WITH THE 24th INFANTRY DIVISION IN KOREA (AP) — The guns are booming again in Korea — but they are the guns of soldiers turned hunters.

In the hills and valleys where the guns of war were silenced two and one-half years ago, American GIs are enjoying hunting such as they never knew at home.

Pat pheasants, grouse and deer abound in almost fabulous number in the new thick undergrowth which hides the war scars. And the game is tame even the novice hunter has little trouble getting his limit.

Wild Game Dinners

Hunting is so good in the rugged area between the Korean truce line and the Imjin River that dinners of wild game are frequent for men of the 24th.

"It is truly a hunter's paradise," Capt. Robert Doughty says. "If a man had a good bird dog, he'd have a field day. I would compare it to the Dakotas. The cover for Chinese redneck pheasant is just what you would desire. I've bagged 27 pheasants, two deer and five bucks hunting weekends since the season opened Nov. 1."

The red-haired captain said he was one of the game wardens for the area but added quickly that when he serves in that capacity he turns his gun over to someone else. Then he checks other hunters' permits and bag limits.

No Violations

There have been no hunting violations and no accidents in his regiment, he says. No one has strayed into the deadly minefields surrounding the hunting areas.

With approval of the Korean government, the regiment has staked out 10 hunting areas, each one to two square miles. As many as 15 hunters are allowed in each with 24-hour permits issued on a first come first served basis.

The regiment sets a bag limit of three animals, a daily possession limit of six and a 24-hour limit of three roosters, five ducks, five grouse and eight doves.

Use Shotguns

Twelve gauge shotguns are the weapons used. The hunters borrow them from the athletics and recreation officer or they can buy them at reduced rates at the post exchange. The only shot stocked so far is bird shot so deer shooting has been limited to the small European type roebuck.

Larger deer roam the hills of Korea but Doughty said "I hesitate to shoot and merely wound them with birdshot." One of the deer he did shoot dressed out at 51 pounds.

Hunting is particularly good north of Imjin River because civilians are not permitted to live so close to the armistice line. Nearly all American outfits in Korea, however, report good hunting because the game is still unfarmed.

"Food and environment are ideal for the birds which are so tame they just sit and look at you," says Doughty. "I've even stepped on a rooster's tail before he'd fly."

"You've got to be a combination man and bird dog. There are mongrel dogs available, but they range too far and are almost worthless."

York Guild. Alfred M. Klein, state athletic commissioner, said yesterday.

Klein said Commission Chairman James Crowley had asked New York Commissioner Julius Helfand for a copy of testimony in the New York investigation. As a result of that the New York Guild was ordered to disband.

Jeremiah Hill is the highest point of land in Rhode Island. It is 812 feet above sea level.

ers will probably be Bobby Hess, a Junior, and Earl Little, sophomore. Both performed well in their initial game.

Others expected to see action are Bill Woods, Tommy Kitzmiller, Pete Pennington, Jon Waglund and Dick Stough.

Delone, with victories over Littlestown and Biglerville against a setback at the hands of Hanover, also has three varsity holdovers.

Phil Staub, 6-4; Carroll Funk, 6, and Dick Smith, 6-1, remain from last season. Other leading candidates include Joe Polst, Richie Hemler, Herb Horwedel, Gene Groft, John Washington, Mike Brady, Jim Strazella, Charles Weaver and Edgar Roth.

Coach John Russ takes his Squires to Biglerville for a return game tonight.

Hornets Tie Reds In Hockey Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Hornets were deadlocked with the Providence Reds for first place in the American Hockey League today and they can thank Willie Marshall for what is getting to be a scoring habit.

Marshall put together the three-goal hat trick for the third time this season last night as the Hornets defeated the Springfield Indians 4-3 in the league's only game. He has twice turned the trick against the Indians.

Marshall scored his first goal at 18:39 of the first period to give Pittsburgh the lead, tied it up at 3-3 early in the third with his second goal and then produced the winning marker at 14:45 of the final session.

FAIRFIELD COPS OVERTIME TILT

A long mid-court shot by Gary Dolly in the final second of an overtime period gave the Fairfield High School cagers a thrilling 39-37 victory over St. John's of Westminster Wednesday evening at Fairfield.

The teams went into the overtime deadlocked at 37-37 and neither scored until Dolly made his winning toss as the final buzzer sounded. Fairfield led most of the way by a good margin until outscored in the final quarter 14-6.

Herb Gingell, Dolly and Sam Scott bore the brunt of the Fairfield attack while Simnett topped all scorers for St. John's with 16 tallies.

The Fairfield reserves lost a preliminary game to a Delone quintet.

KLUSZEWSKI IS TOP 1ST SACKER

NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Kluszewski didn't figure to set any fielding records when he started his major league career with Cincinnati eight years ago.

Today, however, Big Klus is the owner of a shiny new major league mark for first basemen, having led at his position for the fifth straight season.

The official National League averages for 1955 disclosed yesterday that Kluszewski made only 8 errors while handling 1482 chances for a .995 slate. Ted had led every season since 1951.

Rounding out the "all fielding" infield were third basemen Willie Jones of Philadelphia, second baseman Red Schoendienst of St. Louis and shortstop Ernie Banks of Chicago.

Eddie Miksis, a converted infielder, was the leading defensive outfielder with .9891, edging Brook-

Glick Won't Sign Pro Pact Now

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Gary Glick, Colorado A&M back and 1956 bonus choice of the professional Pittsburgh Steelers football team, said last night "I have no intention of signing a contract with any team right away."

The 25-year-old star of the Skyline Conference champions and his wife were leaving by plane for Toronto today to talk over a $12,000 offer to play with the Toronto Argonauts.

Glick told reporters here the Toronto offer was made on a verbal basis and he informed Pittsburgh officials about it.

In Pittsburgh, a Steeler spokesman said Fran Fogarty (Steelers' general manager) will talk to Glick in Denver en route to the draft meeting at Los Angeles next month.

MOUNT DEFEATS SENATORS AS STANLEY STARS

Playing without two starters, Jack Sullivan and Bill Williams, both of whom are sidelined with ankle injuries, the Mount St. Mary's cagers had an unexpectedly easy time toppling the Davis-Elkins Senators Wednesday night 92-71 at Emmitsburg. The West Virginians, fresh from a win over American U., were never in the game after the first quarter when the Mountaineers led 24-21.

As Coach Jim Phelan experimented with a new starting combination which featured the accurate shooting of But Sheing, George Donohue, Bill Stanley and Eddie Bals, the Mountaineers

LITTLE MIAMI HEADACHE TO BIG 10 LOOP

By HAROLD HARRISON
OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — That pride which the Big Ten takes in its football record against nonconference schools is beginning to take a bit of a kicking around from a young fellow who never held a head coaching job until he took over at Miami University here in 1951.

The situation isn't serious enough to cause an emergency meeting of the Big Ten on the question of "what to do about Miami?" but this is what has happened:

Two In A Row
Coach Ara Parseghian now has sent each of his last two Miami teams against a Big Ten foe and each has come home with a victory. Last year, the Redskins edged out Indiana, 6-0, and this year they drubbed Northwestern, 25-14.

Miami and Parseghian have no illusions about the school being a big time football power but its schedule is plenty tough within its own class and with the forays into better known precincts. For example, Parseghian teams also have a 2-1 record against Marquette, in addition to the 2-0 mark against the Big Ten.

Miami twice has played and won in bowl games — the Sun Bowl in 1948 and the Salad Bowl in 1951. Those were in the pre-Parseghian era.

The 32-year-old Parseghian took over at Miami in the fall of 1951 and, going into this season, his teams had a record of 30 games won, 6 lost and 1 tied. He was an outstanding three-sport star as a student at Miami and played two years of pro football with the Cleveland Browns. He was freshman coach at Miami in 1950.

Adjustments Help
Observers say one of the prime secrets of his success has been his ability to teach his players to adjust themselves quickly to opponents' offensive and defensive developments.

An important part of his practice routine is what he calls "situation drills."

"The drills are designed," he says, "to help us do some of the emergency thinking in advance by creating the situations which could cause us confusion, or recreating the situations which have found us in error in the past."

Parseghian isn't one to make quick after-game comments. "I have the worst seat in the house during a game," he says, so he waits until he can see the movie of the game before expressing any definite opinions.

Stresses Poise
He also stresses poise in his drills — a term he says is to cover cool, clear thinking, temper holding and the ability to remain unruffled when things begin to go bad.

But once his emphasis on poise backfired.

In the Northwestern game this year, Miami was penalized 15 yards because Parseghian protested to an official claiming "you only saw the second part of what went on out there."

A player on the bench cracked: "Coach, you sorta lost your poise that time."

JIM SWINK IS RATED AMONG BEST RUNNERS

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Jim Swink, the home run halfback of Texas Christian University, compares with the great runners of all time, says the man who is well-qualified to judge — Mike Michalske.

Michalske, the old pro who played with and against Red Grange and has seen virtually every outstanding runner of the last 30 years, says:

"He's a great one, there's no doubt about it. He's a different type of runner from Grange. Red would come at you and then go away. This guy stops, starts, ducks."

Michalske, who is line coach of the University of Texas, saw Swink when Jim rolled up 235 yards and four touchdowns in TCU's 47-20 victory over the Longhorns.

"Grange had the biggest stride I've ever seen," says the Texas coach. "Grange was uncanny with his faking."

Played Against Grange
Michalske played touch football against the famous Illinois iceman when they were on a barn-storming tour and the memory of Red's elusiveness is still vivid. Michalske continues:

"Many times I would have Grange hemmed in near the sideline. He wouldn't have five yards of working room on either side, and yet I would not be able to get a hand on him. Couldn't even touch him."

Ask him what college player since that time is close to Grange in running ability, and Michalske mentions Doak Walker of Southern Methodist and of J. C. Caroline, who ran wild for Illinois as a sophomore in 1953. Caroline was closer in style to Grange, Michalske says, because he, too, "had an enormous stride."

And now there's Jim Swink. They call Jim the home run player because he goes for the long one — the 70 and 80-yarder that beats you so quick you can't say "get that guy."

Manufacturers' Excise Tax Is Defeated; Hint Sales Tax

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate defeat of the manufacturers' excise tax left a hard-to-answer question—what now?—facing the politically divided Legislature today.

The commonwealth's financial plight approached a full-blown crisis with no signs from either Republicans or Democrats of getting together on a compromise solution. Senate Republicans last night rolled over Democratic objections in sending Gov. Leader's 3½ per cent excise levy proposal into the legislative discard. The vote was 26-20, strictly along party lines.

A classified income levy was killed irrefutably by Senate Republicans last August. Nothing like that was done on the 320 million dollar levy last night.

May Be Revived
In fact, Sen. Mahany, Senate Republican floor leader, said there was "a good possibility" it would be revived by Republicans next week for strategic reasons.

By keeping it alive and on tap, the Republicans could take the bill by the horns and transform it into something like a retail sales tax even though Leader has said he would veto such a levy.

The manufacturers' impost, passed like a whirlwind through the House three weeks ago, went through a series of ups and downs before the Senate action last night.

Only three days ago, Republican leaders promised to supply the three votes Democrats needed if the Senate GOP caucus approved such an action. The approval never came and the bill's doom was sealed.

All GOP Oppose Bill
Every one of the 26 Senate Republicans turned in against the bill. Democratic ranks were reduced by the absence of Sens. Derk (Lycoming), McMenamin (Lackawanna) and Bane (Fayette).

Derk was taken from the Senate chamber to a hospital yesterday after suffering his second heart attack of the session. McMenamin was confined to his home with an eye ailment.

Bane deliberately stayed away from the session and said at his Uniontown home, he would have voted no on the bill had he been in Harrisburg.

"I would have voted against the tax," he said. "I feel that the tax measure was not a good bill, particularly for my county."

The senator, who resigned his seat as of Dec. 31, is now a Fayette County Common Pleas Judge-elect.

Coach Profits On Player's Sacrifice

PORTALES, N. M. (AP)—Eastern New Mexico University fullback Tommy Hightower, in position to take the ball on a drive through the line, spotted a half dollar and a quarter on the playing field. A move to pick up the money would have cost him team a five yard penalty. He didn't make the move. When he came back, he couldn't find the money and went on to help ENMU defeat Washburn College 19-12.

After the game Coach Dewey Langston looked over the field and brought back the half dollar and quarter — and two dimes as well.

LEADERS OF 15 NATIONS CONFER IN PARIS TODAY

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
PARIS (AP)—Top Cabinet ministers of the 15 Atlantic Alliance powers met for their first post-Geneva NATO Council session today, seeking new answers to Russia's renewed challenge in the world power struggle.

At the annual year-end meeting of NATO foreign, defense, and finance ministers, the United States was represented by Secretary of State Dulles, Defense Secretary Wilson and Treasury Secretary Humphrey.

The council will discuss the problem of retooling the West's defense machinery for greater preparedness in the expanding atomic age and Russia's renewed offensive in the cold war. But the main Western allies believe the Red challenge will be as much economic and political as military.

Answers In Future
The Western statesmen are not expected to come up with any quick answers to those massive problems in their three-day meeting here. They are expected rather to state the big questions they face and then look for the answers in the coming weeks and months.

The current meeting marks a real turning point for the ministers. It is their first get-together since the Big Four heads of government agreed in Geneva last July that hydrogen-atomic bomb war is unthinkable — then failed to agree on anything else.

The Western view is that the Soviets, convinced there will be no atomic war, have since Geneva been playing for increasingly higher stakes in the global power struggle which they call "competitive coexistence." In a modification of the "lick 'em or join 'em philosophy," the Russians are expected to intensify their drive to persuade, cajole or bribe as many non-Communist states as possible to adopt neutral roles.

1956 Olympic Shells Come From England

LONDON (AP)—Frank Sims, head of an English firm of boat builders, is making racing shells for the United States, Australia and New Zealand teams for the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne.

The shells are constructed of special plywood made to Sims' specifications. They are built without benefit of plans.

"It's all a matter of experience and feel," says Sims. "Either you have it or you haven't, and if you haven't you might as well dig ditches because no drawing or blueprint will make you a racing-shell builder."

Fish Pulls Angler Off 15-Foot Dam

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Herbert Garrison, 39, of nearby Northampton had evidence to support his big fish story.

While fishing in Hokendauqua creek he hooked one that he said "was so strong it pulled me right off the edge of the dam" — a 15 foot fall to the base of the dam. Garrison was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for a possible fractured nose.

WANTS SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Quigley (D-Pa.) today protested a proposal that the Internal Revenue Service stop giving taxpayers a lift with their tax returns.

He told revenue Commissioner Russell Chase Harrington that to do away with this long-time service would be a violation of an "implied promise" given July 6 by E. A. McGinness, internal revenue district director for Pennsylvania.

Quigley said he had agreed to withhold objection to the closing of internal revenue sub-offices at Red Lion, Hanover, Gettysburg and Carlisle, Pa., provided internal revenue would assure him that taxpayers services would not be cut.

The new proposal, he said, would be a violation of McGinness' promise.

Quigley complained to Harrington that the new plan would force many taxpayers to seek professional assistance in making out their returns, thus adding to their tax costs. Or, he said, taxpayers might over-assess themselves, "a situation which is not to be tolerated," or under-assess themselves, thus putting the government to the extra expense of collecting the deficits.

More Opposition To High Tension Line

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—Three more persons entered protests before the Public Utility Commission yesterday over a plan by Philadelphia Electric Co. to build a 20,000 volt high-tension line between substations in Delaware and Chester counties.

The property owners were Charles R. Johnson of Concord Twp., Eric H. Renwick of Birmingham Twp. and Athelstan Neville of East Bradford.

Johnson said Concord Twp. has an ordinance which provides that

Turnpike Hires 3 Negro Collectors

HARRISBURG (AP)—The recent appointment by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of three Negro men as toll collectors gave "great pleasure" to Gov. Leader.

"Support of fair employment practices requires more than lip service," Leader said yesterday.

"It requires concrete positive action. The administration can take justifiable pride in this first appointment of Negro men as toll collectors."

The appointees were Albert Tucker, Conshohocken; Dawson Gant, Philadelphia, and Horace Whalen, Langhorne.

It takes about 200 bolts of cotton to make a good white shirt.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Col. R. B. White, chairman of the locomotive committee of Bituminous Coal Research, Inc., announced yesterday that the coal industry will test a coal-fired gas turbine locomotive in 1956. The locomotive is the industry's answer to the diesel railroad engine.

The oldest Quaker Meeting House in America, dating from 1699, still stands in Newport, R. I. It is now used as a city community center for children.

MAP PLANS FOR STATE MENTAL HEALTH FUNDS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Hospital officials from all parts of the commonwealth came here today to map action on a Welfare Department plan to use federal mental aid exclusively for state mental institutions.

However, state Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro contended there is no course of action open for the Hospital Assn. of Pennsylvania to secure 10 million dollars in federal funds for community hospitals.

The association said Shapiro abridged the previous state policy of making the funds available for community non-profits hospitals. The funds are appropriated by the government on a 1-for-2 matching fund basis.

No Longer A Proposal
"As far as I'm concerned the issue is closed," Shapiro declared. "Use of these funds for mental health institutions isn't a proposal, it's a plan and it is being carried out."

Shapiro said the 10 million dollars—which he would ask the General State Authority to match with 20 millions—would be in addition to a 30 million dollar increase in his department's budget for mental health.

John F. Worman, executive secretary of the Hospital Assn., said in calling a meeting of the organization's officials that there is no question the Welfare Department has the legal right to keep the funds, since the federal law named the department to administer the money.

Previous Policy Named
However, Worman said it had been policy in previous administrations to give the funds to community hospitals, with the communities putting up the needed matching funds.

He added that the reason for this policy was that the state had taxing power to support state institutions, while communities were hard-pressed to finance a hospital.

"I think his (Shapiro's) purpose is to secure funds which the Legislature would not otherwise have given him to carry out his mental health program," Worman said.

However, Shapiro contended the federal act, passed in 1946, specified the funds be used "where the greatest need is shown."

Speed Up Action
"Overcrowding in our mental institutions, long waiting lists of citizens desperately needing institutional and professional care right now and not in the indefinite future, made it all the more imperative for me to confer with the Hospital Advisory Council," Shapiro said.

The council, on Shapiro's urging, formally recommended that the federal funds be used for mental health exclusively.

Shapiro said that funds given to the state under the federal act were used exclusively in previous

LEADER SIGNS MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A new state mental health program calling for the setting up of a state mental health commissioner and reducing trustees of mental institutions to an advisory capacity was in effect in Pennsylvania today.

Gov. Leader signed the measure yesterday before almost 100 spectators in his reception room.

In signing the bill Leader said it represents "a significant milestone in social service and human betterment for Pennsylvania," adding:

"Great Achievement"
"I consider the enactment a great achievement from the conscience of our citizens and of our staff. Now, for the first time, the people of Pennsylvania can be assured that the mentally retarded and the mentally ill will be in the hands of a commonwealth whose functions are not shackled by non-professional considerations.

New Commissioner
The new commissioner, with the rank of deputy secretary of welfare, would be appointed for a five-year term. He would have to be a psychiatrist with at least seven years training and experience in the care of patients.

The commissioner would be charged with initiating and developing plans and programs designed to prevent, treat and cure the mentally ill. In addition he would recommend to the Welfare Department the appointment of superintendents for mental institutions.

At present superintendents are chosen by institution trustees.

ured that the mentally retarded and the mentally ill will be in the hands of a commonwealth whose functions are not shackled by non-professional considerations.

"The administration of mental institutions must be patterned to meet the needs of our patients' welfare and for that consideration only."

A 20-man advisory council on mental health is created within the Welfare Department by the new law. Its duty would be to advise, assist and make recommendations with respect to the general policies and operation of the mental health program.

Significant Decision
Shapiro said his decision was one of "social importance which I am confident will help all of us do the best job for the greatest number of our citizens in an hour of serious need."

The federal allocations are determined on a basis of priority established on the ratio of community, city or regional lack in the number of hospital beds to the general population.

years for general hospitals.

WELSH, BEAGLE BRING GRINS TO MIDDIE COACH

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Most football teams are fortunate if they have one player outstanding enough to be considered for All-American honors.

Navy has two — Ron Beagle, the end who made many honor teams last season, and George Welsh, the Middles' sensational quarterback.

"Beagle and Welsh," Coach Eddie Erdelatz muses with a happy grin. "They go together like ham and eggs."

Beagle and Welsh may be college football's best passing combination since Chuck Conerly and Barney Poole performed for Mississippi. But their contribution does not stop there.

Welsh, a skinny 164-pounder who looks more like a student manager for the team than its ace quarterback, runs Navy's split-T attack with the ball-handling dexterity of a magician and the cool calculation of a machine.

"Genius" — Erdelatz. "He's a genius," the enthusiastic Erdelatz flatly proclaims. "He never needs or gets any help from the bench. He just looks into the eyes of the other team and knows what to call."

His gambles, such as running on fourth down, seldom backfire. The little quarterback from Coal-dale, Pa., frequently call his own sneak play on such occasions. "When Welsh makes a call, the players know it's right," Erdelatz says. "His poise gives the team a tremendous lift."

In addition to these vital qualities, Welsh is a passer with pinpoint accuracy who became the nation's leading offensive player in Navy's first four games on the strength of aerials alone. He completed 40 of 81 attempts for 635 yards and five touchdowns. In leading Navy to a 34-14 victory over Penn State on a wet field he hit 15 out of 20.

Favorite Receiver
His favorite receiver for these aerials is Ron Beagle, 186 pounds of athletic prowess from Covington Ky., who is as dangerous on defense as he is on offense and is considered by Erdelatz as one of the best all-around players he ever coached.

Beagle anchors the left flank of the Navy line and although he is constantly bird-dogged by defenders in pass patterns, he'll still get free to catch the pass when it is most needed.

He had to miss all of the opener against William and Mary with a fractured wrist, and Navy squeaked by 7-0. Since then has been playing with a leather protector strapped on his wrist.

Despite this he caught 10 Welsh passes for 175 yards and one touchdown in the first three games he played. Some were acrobatic lunges which might have gone incomplete to another receiver. Several of the nonscoring passes set up Navy touchdowns.

Lead Each Other
The two players complement each other on the field and compliment each other off of it.

Welsh says Beagle's presence in the lineup improves his own game. "I feel more confident with Ron in there," he adds. "You don't have to pinpoint your passes with him. You just throw in his general direction. He'll get the ball."

And Beagle says of Welsh: "You can't beat him. He's the best. We've been together five years now, counting our days at Wyoming Seminary (a Navy prep school in Pennsylvania). He's a great quarterback. He has poise and he can't be rattled. You can't go too high on him."

TERRAPINS GO ASTAMBURELLO TAKES CHARGE

By GEORGE BOWEN

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Whenever Coach Jim Tatum is pressed to put his finger on why he thinks this season's Maryland football team should be one of his best, he invariably points to quarterback Frank Tamburello.

This is his answer whether he's talking offense or defense. His high opinion of the junior from Baltimore is dictated as much by Tamburello's quick mind as by his physical talents to run, pass, kick and tackle.

"What makes Tamburello so valuable is that he can take a play that's falling to pieces in front of him and make something out of it," says Tatum. "He can make chicken salad out of chicken feathers."

It's this ability more than anything else that prompts Tatum to play Tamburello over Lynn Beigh-tol, a more publicized high school sensation from Cumberland. Beigh-tol was sought by two dozen other colleges and twice was visited personally by Frank Leahy when he was coaching Notre Dame.

Better Passer
Coach Tatum even held Beigh-tol out of competition two seasons ago and rates him a better passer than Tamburello.

Coach Tatum had planned to bring Tamburello along slowly because he was a sophomore last season. But after the Terrapins won only two of their first 1954 games, Tatum started Tamburello against South Carolina.

He came through with a bang, scoring two touchdowns and directing a 20-0 victory for which he was voted sophomore of the week in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He also quarterbacked Maryland to victories in the next four games.

Quick Thinker
Tamburello broke a bone in his right hand playing lacrosse last spring, but there are no signs of it bothering him this season. Neither is there any dust on his football brain even though he missed spring practice.

It was his quick thinking which pulled out the touchdown in the 7-0 victory over UCLA. With fourth down and a foot to go on the UCLA 17 in the third quarter, Tamburello had called for a quick handoff to Halfback Jack Healy into the line. But when they came out of the huddle, Tamburello spotted eight Uclans in the line.

He checked the Healy play and called for a wide pitchout around end to the other halfback, Ed Vereb. Vereb went all the way to score.

Coach Tatum calls Tamburello "the salvation of an average quarhad a plow horse named "Old Dick." It sported a six-inch handlebar which flourished in the winter when the horse ate in the barn. But during summer, the grazing horse wore his facial hair down to a mere stubble.

A photograph of "Old Dick" with his mustache in full bloom has been mailed to Mrs. Bessie Myers, a London housewife, who appealed to a newspaper for help in proving that some horses have mustaches.

Day Dreaming Judge Sets Own Car Fine

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP) — Justice A. E. Son Warren paid himself an $11.50 fine for driving on the wrong side of the highway.

He said his mind was on a fishing trip and figured motorists who blew their horns and waved as they passed "were just friendly folks" — so he waved back at them.

Sante Fe Scheduled To Smoke Up Nation

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — This ancient city is going to be responsible for smoking up much of the nation this winter.

Jesus Rios, whose family has operated a wood yard here for years, is shipping out huge truck loads of pinon wood from the nearby Sangre de Cristo mountains almost daily. The orders are going to almost every part of the nation.

Pinon, when burned, gives off a fragrant odor. It is in increasing demand over the nation for use in fireplaces.

Florida Bigwigs Are Preserved Incognito

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida is preserving the portraits of a man and woman of a bygone era, although it isn't quite sure who they are. A Citizens Committee came across them while culling furnishings from the old governor's mansion to be placed in a new executive dwelling.

Said Committee Chairman Frank D. Moor:

"No one knows who they are, but someone said they are a former governor and his wife and we figured we ought to save them."

XMAS PAGEANT IN TANEYTOWN

Members of the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church of Taneytown will present a Christmas pageant, "The Inn At Bethlehem," Sunday evening at 7:30 in the parish house. The pageant, set in the Holy city of Bethlehem, "dramatizes the influence of the infant Child on worshippers who come to the manger and fall under the spell of His love and purity."

The lead characters are played by the following: Reuben, the innkeeper, George Matter; Mary, Lareina Fream; Joseph, George Fream; the princess, Louise Abrecht. Members of the supporting cast include: Sara, the princess' maid, Carol Brown; Hannah and Rebekah, two poor, pious girls who work at the inn, Mary Alice Rue and Nancy Baker. The shepherds are Roland Reaver, Donald Airing, Robert Fitz, James Shenk and Larry Ohler. The Wisemen are Singleton Remsburg, Edward Crabbs and Roy Shriner.

The program will also include a welcome message and song by the Beginners' Department and an exercise "Advent Christmas Preparations" by the Primary-Junior Department. The church choir, under the direction of Miss Margaret Shreene will furnish special music for the pageant.

Mrs. Harry Mohney and Mrs. Otis Shoemaker are directing the pageant, assisted by a committee.

A Christmas party for the children of the Primary-Junior Departments will be held in the parish house dining room on Dec. 23 at 7:30 in the evening. A program,

St. Joseph's High School Glee Club will present "A Starlight Christmas" Sunday evening in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. Tickets may be purchased from members of the student body.

The Juniors received their St. Joseph High School class rings last Friday, December 9.

The PTA December meeting numbered 29 parents. After a short business meeting a social was held. A cake baked by Veronica Little was won by Mrs. William Kelz. The Sophomore class won the award for the most parents present at the meeting.

After having bowed 69-61 to Union Bridge on Friday, December 9, the St. Joseph's varsity captured their second victory Monday from Fairfield High with a score of 66-61, making the record two wins and two losses. The girls likewise edged Union Bridge 19-18, and beat Fairfield 25-23 in overtime.

The monthly meeting of the PTA of the Emmitsburg High School will be held Wednesday evening in the public school. A Christmas play and the Glee Club concert games, gifts and refreshments will highlight the party.

"MOODS"

The moods of man are many ... some bad and others good ... and those beyond all expose ... so seldom understood ... they are expressions of the heart ... and show the way we feel ... sometimes they're only make-believe ... but more than often real ... moods start when we are very young ... and go on through the years ... they are life's punctuation marks ... that show our joys and fears ... moods speak a silent language ... they utter not a word ... and yet when we encounter one ... our deepest souls are stirred ... some moods give beauty to this life ... while others tend to smear ... so we should try to instigate ... the ones that foster cheer ... perchance if someone else may seem ... to be aloof or rude ... it's ten to one that they are in ... what people call a mood.

DULLES CITES COLD WAR FRONT

PARIS (U.S. Secretary of State Dulles told the NATO Council of Ministers today the East-West cold war is on again after nearly a year of Soviet policy zig-zagging.

The American secretary, discussing the trends and motives of Russian policy in 1955, declared the new rulers of the Soviet Union have opened dangerous new cold war fronts in the Middle East and South Asia.

He added, however, that the 15-nation Atlantic Alliance had overcome greater dangers in the past by remaining ever vigilant and united.

First Meeting Since Summer
Dulles spoke at the opening of the first Council meeting since last summer's Big Four summit conference at Geneva and the foreign ministers' subsequent deadlock in the Swiss city.

Also attending the annual year-end meeting of NATO foreign, defense and finance ministers were U. S. Defense Secretary Wilson and Treasury Secretary Humphrey.

will be presented that evening.

On Wednesday evening, Miss Mary Flery entertained at a surprise bridal shower in honor of Miss Betty Ann Hollinger, whose marriage to Guy A. Baker Jr. will take place on December 26. A Christmas theme was carried out in decorations and refreshments. Miss Hollinger was the recipient of many very beautiful and useful gifts.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Arvin P. Jones, Mrs. Hazel K. Caldwell, Mrs. Margaret Polley, Mrs. Mary H. Hoke, Ruth E. Stull, Eugene Wood, C. Dornburg, Mrs. Mary S. Scott, Mrs. Helen B. Walter, Mrs. Anna P. Leary, Mrs. Dorothy Hung, Misses Edna C. Stull, Flery, and Hollinger.

A. L. Leary has been confined to his home due to illness.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the public school will hold a food sale in the fire hall on Saturday. Orders for Christmas cookies will be filled.

A large number of persons attended the card party held by the St. Anthony's parish, at the VFW on Wednesday evening.

Students of St. Joseph College will be homeward bound for the holidays after the last class on Friday.

Christmas Programs Listed For Fairfield Churches; Busy Schedule in Schools

A Christmas party for the children of Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield, will be held in the parish house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All children of the Nursery, Primary and Junior Departments are invited to attend. A film strip will be played and refreshments served.

The Children's Department of the Zion Lutheran Sunday School are trimming trees with packages containing clothing. It is requested that each package be marked with a size and whether for a boy or girl. The packages will be given to the welfare children of the county.

The adult department of Zion Lutheran Sunday School will hold a cookie exchange on Wednesday evening, December 21. Each family is asked to bring Christmas cookies and the recipe. Following the "swapping" of cookies and recipes, plates of cookies will be wrapped for the sick and shut-ins of the congregation.

Mrs. Ira M. Henderson presided at the tea table Sunday afternoon when the Girl Scouts entertained their mothers at the Christmas tea. Assisting Mrs. Henderson were scout leaders and members of the troop committee.

Members of the Lutheran League will meet at the parish house Thursday evening, December 21, at 6:30 to go caroling and deliver cookies to the sick and shut-ins of the congregation.

Choir Sings Sunday
On Sunday, at 8 p.m., the Community Choir will present its annual Christmas program, "The Melody Of Christmas." This is an arrangement by Ellen Jane Lorenz from various Franz Schubert works and will be given in the Lutheran Church. Soloists are Mrs. Ira Naugle, soprano; the Rev. Lamont Woelfel, baritone; Merle Kittinger, bass; Walter Keeney, tenor; and Edwin Stoner, baritone.

The Youth Choir of Zion Lutheran Church, under the direction of Mrs. William Strickhouser, will present "The Story Of Silent Night" on Christmas Eve in the Lutheran Church. In story and song, the young people will tell how and why one of the greatest of Christmas Carols came to be written. The Three Kings will be played by Randy Inskip, James Kittinger and Richard Weikert. Soloists will be James and Julie Ross. The glockenspiel will be played by Lana Sowers. Anita Inskip will be the narrator. For an offertory, Richard Weikert and Calvin P. Bream will play a clarinet and trumpet duet of "Silent Night." Following the program, a Christmas party will be held.

St. John's Evangelical Reformed Church will present its Christmas program Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church.

Zion Church Program

The Christmas morning service, starting at 10 o'clock in Zion Lutheran Church, will begin with "Opening Prayer" by Elaine Reindollar. This will be followed by Grades 1 through 5 singing "Christmas Prayer," led by Ronald Sanders. The Nursery Department presentation will be given by Linda Myers, Paul Myers, Barbara Reindollar, Daniel Hammett and Daryl Schumacher. The Kindergarten presentation will open with "Welcome" by Jeanne Reindollar. Following will be group singing, "O Little Child, Do You Know?"; exercise, "Blessed, Blessed Christmas," by Eddie Beard, Jimmy Hammett, David Summers, David Schumacher, Billy Sanders, Carol Ann McLaughlin, Sandra McLaughlin and Douglas Newman; group singing "Away In A Manger"; exercise, "Mother And Child," by Jacqueline Schuit, Susan Sanders and Mary Ann Kittinger; group singing, "Ring-a-ling-a-ling"; "Telling The Christmas Story," by Kenneth Shindeldecker, Kermit Shindeldecker, Robert Owens, Robert Sanders, Virginia Schultz, Barbara Ann Beard, Linda Summers, Mary Jo Ross, Patty Myers and Evelyn Filsinger.

After a Christmas sermonette for children by the pastor, the program will continue with a vocal duet "Infant So Gentle," by Tommy Kittinger and Tommy Bream; group singing, "O What May Happy Children Sing"; "Christmas Prayer" by Henry Neely; Grades 3, 4, 5 singing "Gather Around The Christmas Tree"; group singing, "O Christmas Tree"; "Closing Prayer" by Ronald Sanders and benediction.

Gowns loaned by Tobey's Shop, Gettysburg, were presented and modeled by Miss Lou Anna Zentz, a member of the Senior Class of Fairfield Joint High School, in the school's home economics room Tuesday morning. Attending the display were the Home Economics students in the Junior and Senior Classes. This display was used as a classroom demonstration in the "Buying Of Junior Miss Fashions" in the consumers' series which the students are now studying.

FHA Carol Sing
Members of the FHA of Fairfield High School and their advisor, Miss Marie Weissenfluh, will hold a carol singing party Wednesday evening, December 21. Invited to join the group are the FHA members of the Littlestown High School. The carolers will leave by bus from the high school building at 7:30 p.m. and tour the Fairfield, Gettysburg and Littlestown areas. On their return to the high school, members and guests will be served refreshments. Committees in charge of the affair are: Route, Martha Moritz and Marie Pryor; refreshments, Margaret Culison, Betty Duvall, Diane Kleppinger and Charlotte Hardman; entertainment, Lou Anna Zentz, Martha Moritz and Marie Pryor.

Holiday Vacation
The Fairfield Joint Schools will close for Christmas on Friday, December 23, at 12 o'clock. It has been announced by George B. Inskip, supervising principal. Schools will re-open on January 2.

The Christmas assembly program to be presented Friday morning, December 23, in the Fairfield Joint High School auditorium, will be a Christmas musicale with the high school choruses, under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Barley and the school band, directed by Mr. Charles Rogers, participating. The public is invited to attend.

Biglerville Xmas Contest Winners

The first prize winners in the decorated doorways and overall lighting effect in the annual Christmas Home Decorations Contest held Wednesday evening at Biglerville are shown. The $20 first prize for overall lighting offered by the Biglerville Business Club went to the home of Paul Wagner (top). The award for the best decorated doorway went to the entry of Earl Garretson (bottom). (Diehl Studio Photos) assorted relishes, mince pie and coffee.

Frank E. Basehoar was chairman of the committee consisting of Mrs. Marvin Breighner, Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, Mrs. Harold Sentz, Donald Shelly, and Dale Starry.

High School Carolers

The "Boar's Head Carol" singing waiters were James Zullek, John Busbey, Leonard Potter, Barton Yohn, Richard Horner, John Flynn, Albert Snyder, Tony Maitland, John Shomper, James Kress, Ned Little, Thomas Gouker, Fred Miller, Donald Berwager, Alvin Smith, Ronald Crouse, Karl Bankert, James Carpenter, Robert Orndorff, James Barnes, Gerald Brumgard, Alvin Groff and Ronald Bowers.

Christmas card carolers in 18th century costumes were Roberta Rose, Winifred Redding, Marianne Burgoon, Jane Barton, Susan Baumgardner, Fay Fissel, Ellen Beck, Barbara Swam, Barbara Crouse, Gary Strevig, John Groff, world and it must have been a good God who created it," Gobrecht said.

Paul E. King, supervising principal, introduced the speaker, a former resident of Hanover. Master of ceremonies was Frank E. Basehoar, vice principal. Richard M. Thomas, president of the Littlestown branch of PSEA, led in the pledge to the flag, and Harold Sentz sang the dinner grace. Wilbur E. Mackley, president of the board of education, said in his welcoming speech. "This is our seventh annual banquet and they get larger and better each time. But this is more than a banquet — it is a place where we can get together in fellowship so that we may do a better job around the school. On behalf of the Littlestown Joint School System I welcome you and wish you a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year."

H. E. Riegle, Adams County superintendent of schools, said, "We feel that we have in the county the best office in Pennsylvania. Thank you for having us here."

Group Singing

Group singing was led by Mrs. Robert H. Deardorff with Mrs. Naomi Schwartz at the piano. An "Animated Christmas Card" was presented by 12 senior high school students singing carols on the stage which was decorated with evergreen trees and an old fashioned lamp post with a Christmas wreath. Snow fell and the wind blew as the carolers sang. They were dressed in high hats, long skirts, scarves and muffs to represent by-gone days.

The candlelit dinner, prepared by the school cafeteria chiefs, was served by 26 student waiters from the high school. Singing the Boar's Head Carol, the waiters carried around the dining hall a roasted pig's head on a huge platter decorated with apples, oranges, grapes, parsley and oak leaves. The head was placed before the speakers' table. 180 of the school system's personnel and their guests enjoyed the dinner of crown roast of pork, chicken rice soup, surprise package salad, rum buns, baked potato puffs, filling, brussels sprouts, candied yams, glazed apples, lime sherbert, ple will sit around a table and laugh. Some take the serious things of life and make them more serious than they really are. Some people are going round and round on a merry-go-round reaching for the gold ring to get a free ride. There is a race to get more money and more arms. But this interesting, mixed up world is going to find a solution in a pleasant way.

Need Friendly Spirit

"The world is really waiting for the sunrise, for a little bit of fellowship, for a little bit of kindness. And when people can sit around a table in fellowship and laugh, they are creating something good. The spirit that makes men joke — that's the spirit you can't beat. No one ever heard of men declaring war while sitting around a table laughing. The world is a curious compound but it is a good they find a lot of money that belongs to the township, which the township did not previously get. It was not that there was any dishonesty about it on the part of the justices of the peace, either. But because they resided in a particular municipality or township, they turned the fines over to the one in which they resided without knowing that it should go to the township in which the offense occurred. I don't know if it happened here, because I understand the local justices are efficient, but the auditor must do a thorough job of auditing, of all accounts."

Thomson urged the townships to consider zoning when he learned that none of the townships in the county has a zoning regulation. "The time to zone," he observed, "is before you need a zoning ordinance. When you need it, it is too late to do anything about it."

Five resolutions were passed by the supervisors. The first asked the state legislature to pay $30,000,000 annually from the state gas tax to the municipalities and townships "upon a permanent basis and also to retain the present formula of distribution." Currently the state pays $19,000,000 to the townships and municipalities from the gasoline tax, for use by the townships for roads.

If the legislature would approve the $30,000,000 allocation it would provide the townships with $277.23 per mile as compared to the present $201 per mile allocation and $128 per capita as compared to 53 cents at the present time.

Other resolutions opposed legislation which "will take away from our townships any of the motor fines that now accrue to them"; asked the legislature to "have permits for encroachments on township roads issued by the supervisors who are responsible for those roads," at present such permits are given by the state highway department; asked the legislators to support House Bill 222 "to protect us from land-grabbing by adjacent cities and boroughs," and expressed the thanks of the supervisors association to the county commissioners "for aid given us in road work."

Stanley Mummert, John Busbey and Kenneth Koonz.

Police Seek

his wife dead in the kitchen. Five young children were huddled in the living room, sobbing wildly. Bullet holes were in the kitchen wall.

Escapes Into Woods

Police theorize that after William Small ran out of the house and drove to the justice of peace for help, the youth killed Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Small and shot Gladys. They believe he then tried to set off the dynamite with rifle shots before fleeing into the woods. Police said they don't think he had an auto.

A heavy guard was thrown up about the Fallone home. His father, Ernest, 39, a millworker, cried. And so did Mrs. Fallone. Looking out a window filled with Christmas candles, Mrs. Fallone said over and over:

"He was always such a good boy—such a good boy."

GRANGE NAMES GROUP HEADS

The following committee chairmen were appointed by the Piney Creek Grange, Taneytown, at a recent meeting. Chairing the various committees will be: Legislative committee, Mrs. Evelyn Peterson;

Hubert Null, agriculture committee; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wolfe, membership committee; Mrs. Viola Koons, sick committee; Veronica Forney, publicity committee.

Business approved and new recommendations passed by the grange at the meeting were a Christmas project of sending a food basket to a needy family, and a motion to join the community service contest.

A standard Red Cross first aid course sponsored by the grange will begin Jan. 9 at the Harney Theater at 8 o'clock. It was announced. Sessions will meet each successive Monday night until the completion of the course. It is expected that the course will run for about 9 weeks, each session lasting two hours. Linda Forney and Mrs. Lillian Gunther are in charge of the course.

Meunier, master of the Carroll County Pomona Grange, reported that the grange donated $200 to the Agriculture Center. The Maryland State Grange will meet in Baltimore next year.

Tabulated until the next meeting were decisions on the sponsoring of a camping trip and a 4-H prize.

SEEK PENNSY AID FOR ROAD

Russell H. McCain, chairman of the Maryland State Roads Commission, has advised a delegation from Taneytown to confer with Pennsylvania authorities as the first step in their goal of extending U.S. 340 through their community.

The Associated Press reports that group appealed to the commission Tuesday for extension of the route from Frederick northeastward through Taneytown, Littlestown and Hanover to a connection with U.S. 30, the Lincoln Highway.

McCain pointed out that the American Association of State Highway Officials sets the standard a road must meet before it can be given a U.S. number. He suggested that since it is not association policy to extend the designation to a road which deadends at a state line, that as an alternate they seek to have U.S. 340 extended across the line to a junction with 140 near Littlestown.

However, McCain said he doubted if the Pennsylvania side of the proposed route would meet the association's standards and advised the delegation to seek the cooperation of Pennsylvania authorities in fixing its portion of the highway.

Then, McCain suggested, a joint petition might be filed with the national association to extend the U.S. 340 designation.

Refill Skating

pond only for skating purposes.

May Abandon Rink

"We want to provide ice skating for young people of the community and if it works out this year we'll do it on a bigger scale next winter," Lefever said. "We have spent money on the project but we'll have to abandon the whole undertaking if the ice is marred and made unsafe by having all sorts of rubble thrown onto it after each flooding."

"We're going to try again with the hope that this time we will have the full cooperation of the community and we can offer winter sport at our recreation field," he added. He said the Recreation Association cannot afford to engage a watchman to "guard" a skating pond "that has been constructed for the enjoyment of the entire community."

According to the Federation of Malaya Annual Report of 1953, there were 37,515 people employed in its tin mines.

something. They also ended up in the doghouse.

Timothy Davis made headlines in Long Beach, Calif., by taking his grandfather for a little spin in the family car. The trip was newsworthy for three reasons. One was that the car tore off the porch of a nearby house and came so near running down a neighbor that she fainted. The second was that Timothy propelled the car by sitting on the accelerator. The third was that Timothy was only two years old. Timothy's mother had left him in the car with his grandfather. Timothy turned on the ignition, sat on the gas pedal, and — swoosh!

The Dew Drop Inn at Port Huron, Mich., lived up to its name during a wild wind and rain storm, and dropped into Anchor Bay. One drink too many!

Now, if a two-year-old boy can drive a car by sitting on the accelerator, a two-year-old girl can do it too — and do it better. So Margaret Ann Kilby, of Indianapolis, did it. Margaret wasn't content to crash into a mere house. She rammed into a fireplug, knocked out the neighborhood water supply for three hours, turned the street into a sheet of ice, and, of course, wrecked the car. Another woman driver, eh, fellas?

Traffic experts say it's safe to go on the green light. Try to tell that to Motorist E. T. Drake Jr., of Atlanta! As Drake dutifully obeyed an overhead traffic light that flashed him a green go-ahead signal, the light fell on top of his car and sent him to the hospital. Drake saw red.

The sign over the door of a used car salesroom in Los Angeles said, "We need your car — drive in!" Lewis Jackson Jr. did — with his throttle stuck. The car crashed through a heavy wooden door, sidestepped two glistening cars on the showroom floor, ran head-on into a costly convertible, and bounced the convertible into another car. They took down the sign.

In Copenhagen Mrs. Else Sorenson and Karen Kirk Lassen couldn't resist the dance music coming out of a radio in the Old Folks Home, and decided to try the mambo. They both landed in the hospital with broken legs. Both dancers were 80.

Stanton Sapp and his brother Daniel happened to run into each other on the street in their home town, Mount Vernon,

Ohio. That would have been perfectly all right, of course, if each of the brothers hadn't been driving a car. Neither was injured in the head-on crash, but it did prove the need for the safety slogan, "Be Your Brother's Keeper — Stop Accidents!"

Every theatrical act strives for a knockout finish. The ballet "Streetcar Named Desire" literally achieved it. As tiny ballerina Nora Kaye whirled in the middle of a pirouette during a New York performance; her elbow caught her husky partner Igor Youskevitch smack in the face, and he went down for the count.

Ordinarily, a hung jury is one that fails to agree. But the jury that hung midway between the first and second floors of the courthouse in Reading, Pa., in a stalled elevator for almost an hour agreed perfectly. It wanted down!

To one female, at least, the most important catch of the year wasn't made on a baseball diamond, but on the sidewalk outside an apartment in Chicago. Mrs. Isobel Gutierrez looked up to see her three-year-old daughter teetering on the ledge of a narrow window ledge 22 feet above the ground. Mrs. Gutierrez raced over and caught the falling child. Total casualties — one small cut on the girl's leg and cold chills for the mother.

Four-year-old Walter Adams, Jr. was showing his younger brother some of the acrobatic stunts he had seen on TV, when he happened to glance out the window of his fourth-floor apartment in New York City. He noticed that several small girls on the sidewalk 40 feet below were observing his antics. Walter decided to show them something really good. He opened the window, put his hands together like a high diver, and took off. The girls pulled him out of a big snowbank and carried him up, crying, to his mother. Nothing was hurt but his pride.

In Milwaukee Animal Trainer Robert Bierwirth had been painstakingly teaching two baby elephants to step safely on and off a small platform 18 inches high. He blithely tried it himself, slipped, fractured his left ankle.

On the same day in June, 1955, two planes were brought down in the United States — not by anti-aircraft fire, but by a steer and a jackrabbit. The steer was being chased through a wheat field near Bremen, Ind., by a low-flying plane whose pilot, Bob Unsicker, dived again and again at the animal in an attempt to guide it toward a gate. Suddenly it leaped up and was hit by the plane's wheel. The plane went out of control and crashed into a treetop. The pilot escaped with minor injuries.

The jackrabbit scored its hit near Grand Forks, N. D. It did it by the simple act of leaping high into the air directly in the path of a crop-dusting plane being flown close to the ground by Leo Mondry. A damaged propeller forced the plane to land.

In Hollywood, Calif., where even toys must be colossal or bigger, the Burns and Allen television show was using a 20-pound stuffed Teddy bear in a department store scene. The king-sized bear fell off the shelf, bopped Grace Allen on the head and knocked her out cold.

Walter Bergman, of Ashton,

Idaho, was aware that his jalopy had served him long and well. But he didn't realize how faithful it was until he parked it in front of the post office and hurried in to get his mail. Somehow the car slipped into gear and followed him in, right through the post office window. Move over, old dog Tray!

And out in Los Angeles there's a man who just can't stay out of accidents. He's had several traffic escapades that made news for the papers. And this year he fell through the floor of the laboratory where he works and landed nine feet below with a bang that knocked him out. His name? No kidding, folks, it's Safety First!

Do you still think everything happens to you? Monotonous life you lead, isn't it?

Santa and the Dumdidly

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newfeatures

He had just popped a marshmallow into his mouth when he felt a hand on his shoulder.

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: The Dumdidly saves Beanie from the witch by taking the poison pill from his pudding and putting it in the witch's pudding. When the witch tastes the pudding she instantly turns into an old black pot.

CHAPTER 10
IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Beanie stared in amazement at the old black pot that had fallen from the old woman's chair. He left his raisin pudding untouched and ran to the front door. On the way he stumbled again over the three black pots in the parlor. When he went out the door he stumbled over the black pot sitting there.

The hair stood up on his head.

He thought, "If I stayed in that house any longer maybe I'd turn into a black pot."

He was so frightened he never stopped running until he was well out of the forest and back on the road leading to Far Away Places.

In Beanie's pocket the little Dumdidly rolled himself into a ball and went to sleep.

As Beanie went on his way he became hungrier and hungrier. Presently he came to a farm house surrounded by a fence. On the fence was a sign saying: "Keep Out." On the other side of the fence stood a Christmas tree. It was decorated with peppermint sticks and gum drops and cones of chocolate candy and stars made of sugar.

"I am so hungry," thought Beanie. "Surely no one would mind my having something from this Christmas tree. Especially since Christmas is a time for giving."

He climbed over the fence and ran to the tree. He had just popped a white marshmallow into his mouth when he felt a hand on his shoulder. He was swung around to face a skinny old man with deep-set eyes.

"Taking candy from my tree, pay me."

The man spoke in such a shrill, angry voice that the Dumdidly awoke. He poked his head out of Beanie's pocket just in time to hear Beanie say, "But, sir, I haven't any money."

"Very well," said the old man. "You'll work to pay for it." And he took hold of Beanie's collar and led him into the barn. He pointed to a pile of dirty glass lamps.

"Clean the inside of those lamps," he ordered. "Have the glass nice and shining and all of them done by noon."

Beanie stared at the lamps. There were about 50 of them and the glasses were so dark with smoke that he could not see through them.

"W-what if I don't finish by noon?" he faltered.

"Then I'll beat you," said the man. And he left Beanie alone with the lamps and a pile of old rags.

Beanie picked up the first lamp. He pushed and pushed but he could not get even his hand inside the lamp to polish it. He kept pushing with the cloth until suddenly there was a pop! and the glass shattered in his hands. He tried another and the same thing happened.

The next lamp he pushed the cloth into inch by inch and turned it and pressed it ever so gently. He finally cleaned it but it had taken a long, long time and there were more than 45 lamps to clean in another hour.

The Dumdidly thought, "This will never do." So while Beanie was cleaning the next lamp the Dumdidly climbed out of his pocket and sneaked into the cor-

MIAMI POLICE NAB THIEF ON CABBIE'S TIP

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A taxicab driver gave police a running radio account of an armed robbery as it occurred Wednesday and the stick-up man was quickly surrounded and captured.

Frank Dubois started his description of the crime when he saw a man jump into the automobile of Albert J. Gilson, a Chicago attorney, when it stopped for a red light.

The cabbie noticed a bright object in the man's hand and saw Gilson throw up his hands. He called his dispatcher on his radio telephone and the call was switched to police headquarters.

Keeps Police Informed

Gilson was forced to drive south along Collins Avenue and Dubois followed, keeping police informed.

Gilson was ordered to turn into a side street and pull up to the curb. Immediately, police cars which had converged in the area blocked off the narrow street.

As the holdup man stepped out of the car, he was surrounded by police.

Others Help

Taxicab drivers tuned in on Dubois' wave length also had been attracted to the scene and helped block off the street.

Gilson told police he was robbed of $28 during the ride.

Detective Sgt. William R. Murray identified the holdup man as George Eugene Russ, 26, of Beaver Falls, Pa. He was held without bail.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A House-approved proposal to authorize the setting up of single or joint county health departments in all except Philadelphia County was approved by a Senate Committee Tuesday night.

Steals Stolen Money, Surrenders To Police

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A man accused of stealing most of the $22,000 taken from the Camden plant of the Freihofer Baking Co. last month has surrendered to police here.

Nicholas Persiano, 22, of Camden, appeared at police headquarters Tuesday with his attorney. Camden County Prosecutor Mitchell Cohen said Persiano stole $19,400 from a hiding place in West Collingswood where three safe robbers had hidden the loot from the bakery plant robbery.

The three robbers have been arrested.

Persiano was charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods and was held without bail for court Tuesday at a hearing before Municipal Judge William K. Dickey of Collingswood.

Find 'Fabulous' Ore At Abandoned Mine

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A rich find of minerals at the site of an old, abandoned gold mine in the San Pedro Mountains has been announced here by the Onego Corp. of Uniontown, Pa., and Santa Fe.

The company termed its discovery "fabulous" and said one assay on the gold reported discovered ran as high as $1,172 per ton.

ROUTE ADDITION IS REQUESTED

BALTIMORE (AP)—Russell H. McCain, chairman of the state Roads Commission, has advised a delegation from Taneytown to contact Pennsylvania authorities as the first step in their goal of extending U. S. 340 through their community.

The group appealed to the commission Tuesday for extension of the route from Frederick northeastward through Taneytown to a connection with U. S. 30 near York, Pa.

McCain pointed out that the American Assn. of State Highway Officials sets the standard a road must meet before it can be given a U. S. number. He suggested that, since it is not association policy to extend the designation to a road which deadends at a state line, as an alternative they seek to have U. S. 340 extended across the line to a junction with 140 at Littlestown, Pa.

However, McCain said he doubted if the Pennsylvania side of the proposed route would meet the association's standards and advised the delegation to seek the cooperation of Pennsylvania authorities in fixing its portion of the highway.

Then, McCain suggested, a joint petition might be filed with the national association to extend the U. S. 340 designation.

Opens Low Rent Houses To All

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—The Chester Housing Authority Tuesday night voted unanimously to make the city's four low-rent projects available to applicants regardless of race, creed or color.

Executive Director Lawrence Conner Jr. said the resolution was introduced by Sherman Williams, Negro member of the board, and was supported by the other four members.

Conner said there are 56 vacancies among the 1,390 housing units in the four projects—two of which previously had been for white occupants only.

SALE IS APPROVED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Directors of NoMend Hosiery, Inc., has approved sale of the business to the Berkshire Knitting Mills. The sale is subject to approval of NoMend's stockholders.

If approved, NoMend would become a division of Berkshire on Dec. 29. NoMend had plants in New York, Lebanon, Pa., and Gainesville, Fla.

JACK WEBB'S RECONCILE

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dragnet's Jack Webb reports he and his wife Dorothy Towne have reconciled after a four-week separation. The Sgt. Friday of television said Tuesday, "We are trying to work out our problems. We hope to spend more time together."

101ST AIRBORNE TO BECOME 3RD COMBAT OUTFIT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced Wednesday the 101st Airborne Division, now a training unit, will become the third major paratroop combat outfit of the Army.

This will mean that total Army combat strength by the end of this fiscal year will be 19 divisions, — a net loss of one from the present strength.

There are now two airborne combat divisions, the 82nd and the 11th.

Details of organization of the 101st are not yet ready for announcement, the Army said.

The Army recently disclosed, however, that personnel of the 18th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, now at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and the 508th ARCT, now in Japan, will be integrated into a new division. Divisions usually consist of three regiments.

The 101st now is carrying on training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. The Army said that training center functions will remain at Ft. Jackson when the 101st is moved to Ft. Campbell, Ky.

The 101st is one of the oldest of the airborne divisions. It was originally formed in 1921 as a part of the organized reserve, and was designated as an airborne division in 1942.

The 101st campaigned in Europe in World War II, including its famous defense of Bastogne in the Battle of the Bulge.

Say Ambassador Was Held By Cops

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Unconfirmed reports from north Afghanistan Wednesday said U. S. Ambassador Angus Ward was held by police for three hours for entering a restricted area.

Neither the Afghan government nor the U. S. Embassy would confirm the report, which said the incident occurred four days ago at Mazir Sharif, a frontier town 20 miles from the Russian-Afghan border.

Ward, who was imprisoned for a month in 1949 by the Chinese Communists while U. S. consul at Mukden, has been on a fortnight's tour of north Afghanistan.

According to the report from Mazir Sharif, the police there were not convinced of Ward's identity. However, he was able to get word to the embassy in Kabul and the central government advised the Mazir Sharif police that the detention was a "mistake."

Church held its annual Thanksgiving service Sunday. The speaker was Mrs. Ray Dunkleberger, Gettysburg, wife of a retired Lutheran Missionary who served 45 years in India. Mrs. Dunkleberger was dressed in a native Indian costume and gave an interesting address on life and habits of the Indian people and what the church is doing for them.

Mrs. Gerald Myers was the guest of honor at a shower held recently at the home of her sister-in-law, near Dover. Several relatives and friends from here were among the guests.

Mr. George Baker and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Grace Swope, were guests at the home of Mr. Baker's daughter, Mrs. John Shaffer, and family, Hanover, recently.

The Abbottstown Youth Association will hold its annual Christmas party next Sunday afternoon. Members will decorate the square with four trees, placing 75 lights on each tree.

Oranges and candy will be given to all children of the community. Members of the Youth Association will canvass the town for money to pay expenses.

The Christmas banquet of the Volunteer Sunday School Class of the Lutheran Church will be held Thursday in the parish hall.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Favor Segregation At Morganza School

HARRISBURG (AP) — Sen. Lane (D-Washington) said Wednesday a study of testimony taken at a legislative investigation of the Pennsylvania Training School at Morganza developed a conclusion that both boys and girls should not be housed at the same institution.

Lane, co-chairman of the investigating committee said the report of the committee's investigation should be ready for submission to the general Assembly next week.

"We feel that most of the trouble at the school arose because it houses both boys and girls," Lane explained, adding:

"We will ask the Assembly to

Convict Pair In Seashore Killing

MAYS LANDINGS, N. J. (AP) — An unemployed cook and a red-haired waitress have been sentenced to 20-25 years in jail for the murder of an 80-year-old Atlantic City make it a one sex school—preferably an all-boys' institution."

theater manager.

Atlantic County Judge George T. Naame passed sentence Tuesday on Harry Karpordellis, 30, formerly of Wilmington, Del., and Mrs. Lynette Beasley, 28, of Atlantic City, following their Nov. 28 plea of no defense to second degree murder in the death of Fred Irvin. Irvin's bruised body was found floating in the Atlantic City inlet last September.

Police said the day the body was found Mrs. Beasley and Karpordellis removed about $1,000 from Irvin's safe deposit box in a Philadelphia bank.

Karpordellis was sentenced to Trenton State Prison and Mrs. Beasley to the Women's Reformatory at Clinton.

GERMAN CABINET STUDIES RETURN OF OTTO JOHN

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his Cabinet Tuesday discussed the sensational return to West Germany of former intelligence chief Otto John.

An Interior Ministry spokesman said John was still under interrogation here. He said the questioning could last four or five days.

"John is giving information voluntarily," he said. "There has been nothing revealed so far that would justify the filing of any charges against him."

Nothing of what John was telling was announced. There was no confirmation of the report by a West German news agency that he had said a West Berlin physician, Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, had drugged him and kidnapped him from West Berlin.

Wohlgemuth left West Berlin with John and still is in East Germany.

Interior Minister Gerhard Schroeder, John's boss when the turncoat headed the West German counterespionage setup, reported to the Cabinet on John's surprising return to the West.

Doubt Conviction
Although authorities maintained silence on John's questioning and his future, official quarters doubted that he would be tried for treason. The government labeled him a traitor when he defected. Now many believe he could not be convicted because of the difficulty of proving he had betrayed

DULLES ARRIVES FOR NATO TALKS

EVREUX, France (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dulles arrived here Wednesday in a misty rain but in cheerful spirits for top-level talks with foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Dulles chatted amiably with U.S. Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon and other high officials who greeted him but declined to make any comment on prospects for the forthcoming talks in Paris, the annual year end meeting of the NATO council to approve plans for the coming year.

He said he had not seen statements by Soviet Premier Bulganin and Indian Prime Minister Nehru calling for high-level discussions between Red China and the United States.

Strike Impedes Landing
Dulles landed at the American Evreux airbase, an hour and a half drive from Paris, because a strike of airport technicians has closed Paris fields.

U.S. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Treasury Secretary George Humphrey arrived at the same field in another plane about two hours earlier. Both Wilson and Humphrey waited for Dulles, then joined him in a motorcade bound for Paris. All three will be on the American delegation to the NATO talks.

Denied New Trial In Damage Suit

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—U. S. District Court has denied a new trial to Paramount Film Distributors Corp., losers in a $1,275,000 damage suit. The amount was awarded to Lewis Sablosky of Norristown. The jury which heard the case returned a verdict of $425,000 in favor of Sablosky and Judge Alan K. Grim trebled the damages. Sablosky contended that from 1939 to 1951 Paramount denied his firm the right to exhibit motion pictures on a first-run territorial

House Honors Five Deceased Members

HARRISBURG (AP)—Five members and former members of the House who died during the last two years were honored Tuesday in a half hour special memorial service. Resolutions of tribute were passed for Pfaff (R-Philadelphia), Watkins (R-Schuylkill), Shoemaker (R-Schuylkill), Lederer (D-Phila) and Spencer (R-Lackawanna). Members stood in silence for one minute to end the ceremony. basis at Norristown in the Norris and Grand theaters.

DEADLOCK FACES 2-MONTH STRIKE

Negotiations between the striking AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and the Westinghouse Electric Corp. were at a standstill Wednesday as federal mediator John R. Murray called on union representatives to meet with him.

Murray announced in Pittsburgh Tuesday a temporary halt in union-management talks aimed at ending a two-month long strike in 30 Westinghouse plants across the nation.

Westinghouse did not comment immediately on IUE President James B. Carey's proposal that strikers return to work provided that the company continue negotiating until Oct. 1, 1956, then turn any disputed issues over to an arbitrator.

Carey told a news conference in New York Tuesday he would accept an arbitrator named by President Eisenhower or a panel of three arbitrators named by the governors of Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey or by the secretaries of commerce and labor and the chief justice of the United States.

WOULD LICENSE NURSES to obtain licenses to practice in Pennsylvania was passed by the Senate Tuesday night.

KILLS WIFE IN DRINKING BOUT

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Jack Milton Campbell, 44-year-old ex-seaman and owner of a small hotel, told authorities Wednesday he strangled his wife after a day-long drinking bout and months of nagging.

Police booked Campbell, foster son of a well-to-do Denver, Colo., insurance man, with murder.

James M. Campbell, 87-year-old chairman of the board of the Security Life Insurance Co., Denver, adopted him as an infant in Oklahoma City.

The victim was Mrs. Mary Wilhelm Campbell, 56, who Campbell said he married last August after they met in a bar. They had been quarreling ever since, he said.

Campbell said his wife originally was from Pennsylvania. Detectives John Dupuis and William Stevens said Campbell made a noose of his bathrobe belt to strangle his wife last night after knocking her out with his fist.

"Mean Woman, Lost Temper"

Campbell told detectives he and his wife had been drinking wine most of the day.

To Allow Farmers To Set Own Limitations

WASHINGTON (AP)—If there is to be any over-all limitation on farm production next year, the Eisenhower administration will leave it to farmers to impose it upon themselves.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson indicated Tuesday the administration does not intend to propose or to impose restrictions beyond those already required by legislation enacted before World War II. In fact, it wants to go in the opposite direction — toward greater farmer freedom.

The secretary sketched further outlines of new farm program proposals the administration is preparing for presentation to Congress next month. He talked with newsmen at the conclusion of a two-day meeting of the government's 18-member Agricultural Advisory Commission.

"There was no living with her," he said. "She's as mean a woman as ever lived. I lost my temper. I held it for as long a time as I could. I'm no angel, but that woman had a terrible temper."

He told detectives he was in the kitchen of the hotel Tuesday night, and his wife was calling him names from another room.

"She kept on about me going out with other girls," he said. "Then I blew my top."

Officers said they found the woman in bed, dressed in a housecoat and covered with a blanket. Part of Campbell's bathrobe cord was around her neck, they said.

STUDY VEHICLE CODE REVISION

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Joint State Government Commission would undertake a revision of all laws relating to motor vehicles if the House adopts a committee-approved bipartisan resolution.

The Rules Committee Tuesday sent to the floor a proposal calling on the commission to conduct a thorough study because the vehicle code has not been rewritten since 1929 although more than 100 amendments have been enacted.

Sponsors are Reps. Wheeler (D-Fayette) and Royer (R-Lancaster).

Report To Next Session

The commission would report its findings and proposed revision to the next session of the General Assembly.

Other measures winning committee approval and ready for floor action would:

Prohibit anyone from listening in on the deliberations of any jury. Urge Congress to construct a canal connecting Lake Erie with the upper Allegheny River.

Measures Ready For Action

Miner Clergyman Stops At $32,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Stanley Skeens, coal miner and clergyman, stopped at the $32,000 level Tuesday night in the CBS radio and television quiz show, "The $64,000 Question."

"The Lord has been very gracious and good to me up to this point," Skeens said in announcing his decision not to try to double his prize money. Had he missed he would have received a consolation prize of an expensive car.

Skeens, 26, of Danville, W. Va., won his money by answering questions about the Bible.

The daughter, Mrs. Beneda Storti, 31, of Conshohocken, Pa., was riding with her brother-in-law, Louis Storti, 31, of Bridgeport, Pa., when their car collided with one operated by Clarence L. Wanner, 48, of Collegeville, Pa.

Mrs. Storti was thrown from the car and sustained a fractured pelvis and rib fractures. She was taken to Montgomery Hospital in Norristown.

Auto Snaps Pole, Douses City Lights

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Haboro, Pa., motorist was injured slightly Wednesday when his car swerved off the road, snapped off a pole and left a portion of the city's Mt. Airy section without electric lights for 45 minutes.

Joseph Ciarrochi, 40, was treated at Chestnut Hill Hospital for face cuts.

About 50 homes were affected by the temporary power failure.

OLD ARGUMENT ON U.N. MEMBERS FINALLY ENDS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — When the United Nations diplomats get something done it is called statesmanship. But if labor unions and management took as long to agree on a contract, or did as many flip-flops, they'd be out of business.

When the U.N. yesterday admitted 16 new members it climaxed a whole series of somersaults — going back for years — by the U.N. membership in general and the United States and Russia in particular. No one looked very pretty in this one.

Take the case of Spain. Since 1946 the U.N. had approved a series of resolutions to keep Spain out. In 1945 the United States suggested the Spanish people ought to get rid of their dictator, Francisco Franco.

Opposed Admitting Spain
Russia was just as opposed to U.N. membership for Spain. But time passed. The cold war began. And the United States wanted military bases in Spain as outposts against Russian attack. Spain agreed.

Russia, anxious to get some of her satellites into the U.N., knew she couldn't if she tried to block Spain, which now had U. S. support. The result: Yesterday Spain was admitted overwhelmingly, with the United States and Russia voting for her.

Take the case of Outer Mongolia, which declared itself a republic in 1945 and was recognized the same year by Nationalist China. In 1946 the United States and Nationalist China both backed Outer Mongolia for U. N. membership.

Used Veto Threat
But in 1947 Mongolian and Nationalist Chinese troops were fighting and Nationalist China, an ally of this country, changed its mind. And so did the United States. Time passed.

This fall the U. N. members — in order finally to get in some of the nations which had been crying for membership in the U. N. for years — worked out a deal: 18 new members would be admitted; five of them, including Outer Mongolia, would be Soviet satellites; the other 13 would be nonsatellites. Russia warned that if her satellites were vetoed — a veto could keep out an applicant for membership — she'd veto the 13 nonsatellites. The United States didn't want Outer Mongolia in. But this country was under pressure by the other U. N. members not to wreck this deal. It agreed not to use the veto. So it abstained from voting at all on Outer Mongolia.

Japan Is Vetoed
The United States also urged Nationalist China not to use the veto. But the Chinese paid no attention and vetoed membership for Outer Mongolia. This got practically everybody sore in the U. N., including Russia, which kept its threat to veto the 13 nonsatellite countries.

This was Tuesday and things were in a fix. The United States and Russia were blaming each other for blowing up the whole plan. Then Russia proposed a compromise; it would let Outer Mongolia stay vetoed but in turn would veto membership for Japan and then all the others—a total of 16 nations now — could be admitted, and that's just what happened.

ASSESS DAMAGES AGAINST SLAYER

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Damage awards totaling $114,500 went into court records Wednesday against Percy S. Haines, now serving a life sentence in Eastern Penitentiary for a shooting spree in the Cumberland County Court house last Aug. 2.

One jury Tuesday awarded $111,000 damages to Mrs. John D. Faller Jr., widow of the attorney who was killed in the blaze of gunfire. Another jury awarded $3,500 to Mrs. Lulu Haines, wife of the convicted slayer.

Court records show Haines' only known assets are his farm near Newville and an automobile.

A damage suit filed by George Black, Chambersburg, another attorney, wounded in the shooting was postponed because of Black's illness. Judge Mark E. Garber, who was also wounded, did not file a damage suit.

chair to a deck snapped, sending him sailing into a bulkhead. The accident occurred during a two-day gale that buffeted the 8,500-ton Glacier, the Navy's newest and biggest icebreaker.

Byrd, 67, laughed off his injuries — slight cuts on the nose and cheek and a mild bruise on the back.

STEVENSON AND KEFAUVER WILL CLASH IN JUNE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
California's June primary seems likely to produce a head-on contest between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson listed California yesterday as one of four additional states in which he will seek pre-convention voter support.

A short time later, Kefauver wound up a week's stay in the politically important state by announcing he too will enter the California primary if he decides to run for president.

The Tennessee senator says he'll declare formally tomorrow. Few will be surprised if he tries again as he did in 1952.

Stevenson added Florida, Pennsylvania and Illinois, as well as California, to the list of states where he plans to run in primaries. Previously he had named only Minnesota.

Decide Others Later
The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said he picked these contests as voters could show preference "on a regional basis in the East, Midwest, South and West." He said he would decide about other primaries later.

In Ohio, Gov. Frank Lausche announced he is willing to be his state's "favorite son" candidate at the Democratic convention.

Whether the five-term governor would remain in the secondary role traditionally accorded "favorite son" candidates remained to be seen. Some Democratic leaders outside of Ohio have mentioned him as a possible dark horse winner at the convention.

On the Republican side, friends of Sen. Knowland of California said in Washington they believe the GOP Senate leader will be an active aspirant for the presidential nomination early next year.

The Knowland backers professed confidence that President Eisenhower will decide against seeking re-election, and that Eisenhower sometime next month as Knowland has been urging, Knowland himself declined public comment.

WILLING TO RUN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Wednesday announced his willingness to become "favorite son" candidate for president at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago next August.

HEAVY DEFENSE BUDGET CURBS TAX CUT HOPES

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Push-button warfare comes high. The indicated rise of one billion dollars in spending for defense dims the hope of businessmen today that the heavy load of taxation that business carries will be lightened.

The increasing costliness of today's supercomplex weapons may also cut the chances of the individual taxpayer for much relief soon.

If you must blame someone, blame the scientists—their ideas grow costlier.

Business hopes for tax relief had grown out of the business boom itself. Gross earnings are so remarkably good and payrolls so high that the U. S. Treasury stands to take in next spring a billion or two more in tax collections than it had counted on when the budget was drawn up a year ago.

Red Trickery Hurt
This seemed sure to balance the budget and perhaps leave room for tax relief—most likely at the individual income tax level, and possibly at the corporate income and excise tax level.

That was before the Russians turned their smiles in other directions and returned to calling Uncle Sam and his friends bad names. Defense needs are more apparent now than in the days of the "spirit of Geneva."

But the real coup de grace to cuts in defense costs was given by the scientists.

New weapons in this age of atomic warfare and guided missiles come with ever higher price tags.

All Things Are Better

Businessmen have seen the scientists do the same thing to them. The days when a firm made one product year after year—maybe, generation after generation—are fast fading.

This year's gasoline has a higher octane rating than last. The drugs that grandfather used are overshadowed on the shelves by ones he never heard of. The kitchen you consider a simple necessity would have been unbelievable to great-grandmother.

The cars, appliances and other durable goods you buy today cost

Council Of Churches Opens Detailed Survey

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP) — A county-by-county survey of the religious affiliation of Americans of the three major faiths is being made by the National Council of Churches—the first such detailed survey ever made, the council says.

Its division of Home Missions announced the survey Tuesday and said the results would be published next year.

The study, launched in 1954, was started after a $35,000 grant was received from a national foundation that prefers to remain anonymous, the division reported. Church agencies supplied services estimated to cost more than $100,000, its report said.

LEARN ROADWAY RULES FROM A DRIVING EXPERT

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Are you the horse 'n buggy slowpoke automobile driver type?

Or are you the "look-no-hands" show-off when you are at the wheel?

Both types are a menace on the road—the driver who mopes along smelling the flowers and the one who drives so fast he never sees anything, not even cars or humans. It isn't the car's fault either as a rule, as just as many well-greased, good-tired cars are involved in accidents as the run-down jalopies.

It's getting harder to convince parents to lend the car with accident reports appearing daily in newspapers. But there is an out and parents go for it.

Go To School
One way to put it over is to take driving lessons at a professional driving school. That is if a course isn't available at your local high school.

More and more high schools are conducting these safe driving courses assisted by the American Automobile Association who help train teachers, supply text books and testing devices. Cars are loaned usually by local car dealers. Best of all the course is free.

New York and Connecticut PTA groups are helping encourage parents to give their offspring professional driving lessons in areas where high school driving courses are not available. Statistics on these courses are said to show that only half as many of those who've taken the high school courses have been involved in accidents.

Finds Course Helpful
What could you learn that you don't know now about driving? "Plenty," says a 17-year-old Connecticut girl whose parents gave her a birthday present of a driving school course. She says:

"Driving schools help a lot. For one thing I was flabbergasted when I found it requires a minimum of 78 feet to stop a car going 30 miles an hour. I keep thinking now about a poor little squirrel I killed once. It was probably just because I couldn't stop fast enough."

One parent found that driving schools can backfire, however. It seems this Dad thought he was a wonderful driver until Junior and Sis started heckling him. For one thing Dad admits he was very bad on signals and he says "now the kids insist I make them all properly or they will not ride with me."

Offers Advantages
The lovely thing about being a good driver and getting the course certificate is that it has its rewards. . . .

In New York, for instance, young people who have completed the course can get the driver's license a year earlier than those who have not.

And as far as the family car goes, it's easier to borrow when you've gotten your good driving diploma. How can Dad throw up the accident rate if you've passed your tests with flying colors? As long as gas, tires and repairs are paid for by the driver, and the family is not using the jalopy, you'll probably be able to borrow it.

Snaring The Work
As one young modern puts it: "I can get the car more often on Saturday nights if I do a good washing and polishing job on it Saturday morning."

One parent said that he had found that "since Mary knows she's got to pay for a dented fender (the last one cost $6), she has suddenly learned how to park. She parks our 1948 sports coupe like it was the Queen's coach."

The high school courses teach, too, that it is just as sportsmanlike to be a good driver as to be a good competitor in other things. If your

SCHOOL COLORS FOR PENS IS NEWEST TREND

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

It seems young moderns have become individuals again. At Los Angeles chic students wear Italian gaucho shirts and bunny shoes. At Westport, Conn. they're wearing real Scottish kilts, Bermuda shorts and sturdy polished flats.

A fad now raging in the East is the wearing of a two-tone ball point pen in school colors clipped to the sweater. You can find Yale, Notre-Dame or Stanford among the 247 different color combinations originally planned to match car interiors. But students had other ideas.

Growing Wiser
Parents are getting smarter all the time. Here's an example: Why complain about the kids using the phone when for a price of a long distance call, one might have a phone installed for the very own use of the young fry?

It's an idea that seems to be spreading judging by recent reports. Here's a conversation overheard in Richmond, Virginia. . . .
"Dig that real gone boy over there! Man, he's a real cool cat."
"Bet he's no mouse either."
"Yep. I met him at the hang-out Monday and last night he came to a blast at my house. He dragged some drip. I don't know who she was, but she was a real square. He said he couldn't get another drag though."
"Ha! That's rich. I don't know who he's trying to snow but I bet he could have dragged any doll in the pen."
Interpretation? Dig - see; real gone - nice looking; cool cat - owns a new car; hangout - drug store; blast - party; drag - have a date; drip - girl, not too attractive; square - intellectual; snow - fool; doll - pretty girl; pen - school.

ports. At Lubbock, Tex., a good indication of respect for young people's rights (ahem) is illustrated in the telephone directory under the listing for Dr. R. K. O'Loughlin. It says "children's number." It's for Sharon 15, Jeanie 13, Kathy 10, Ricky 5, Robbie 4 and Pat 2.

At Hartford a dentist lists his business and residential number a under it: The Courthouses' Children (there are eight) 'with their own number.'

Donald H. Ogilvy of Scarsdale, N. Y. lists it this way: Children's Telephone.

Makes Special Rate
In New Jersey the Public Service Commission has authorized the telephone company to make a special rate on the second residential phone, discounting it 50 cents to $1.25, depending on the zone.

Maybe other states will petition for reductions too, making it easier to persuade Mom and Dad to go for the idea. If not, how about using baby sitting money for the project?

PREPARE XMAS PUDDING AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

NEAT TRICK: make that Christmas pudding ahead of time! Steam it in two containers. Let the family and guests enjoy one pudding at a pre-holiday celebration; then at Santa-Claus time, heat the remaining pudding by re-steaming it for about an hour in its original mold. The second pudding will keep well, tightly covered, in the refrigerator. Or follow our recipe note and steam one pudding at a time; mixing the pudding ingredients this way and having them on hand will save you hustle and headache at Christmas time.

This pudding is perfect, to our way of thinking. It has a delicious cake-like batter that is not too rich — but rich enough. Its flavor is helped along by steeping raisins, citron and apple in orange juice. A subtle combination of spices and molasses add their piquancy, and Brazil nuts offer not only flavor but texture contrast.

STEAMED CHRISTMAS PUDDING

Ingredients: 1 cup orange juice, 3½ cups seedless raisins, ½ cup finely cut citron, 2 apples (peeled and chopped), 2 tablespoons grated orange rind, 4 eggs (slightly beaten), 1 cup old-fashioned molasses, 2 cups chopped Brazil nuts, 1 cup (4 ounces) ground beef suet, 1½ cups fine dry bread crumbs, 1 cup sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon baking soda, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ground allspice, ½ teaspoon ground cloves.

Method: Pour orange juice over raisins, citron, apple and orange rind; let stand 1 hour. Mix slightly beaten eggs and molasses; stir in nuts, suet and bread crumbs. Sift in remaining ingredients; mix well. Add fruit mixture; mix well. Turn into two greased 2-quart pudding molds with tight fitting covers. Or cover tops of molds with aluminum foil and tie snugly. Place on rack in deep kettle; pour in boiling water to half the depth of the mold. Cover; steam 5 hours; add more boiling water during steaming if necessary. Serve warm with pudding sauce or softened vanilla ice cream. Makes 24 servings.

Note: Make pudding, omitting baking powder and baking soda. Divide mixture in half. Cover half the mixture and store in refrigerator. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon baking powder and ½ teaspoon baking soda over remaining mixture; blend thoroughly. Steam according to directions. When ready to prepare second pudding, follow same procedure.

12 Non-Communist And Four Red Nations Voted Into UN

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The General Assembly brought the 10-year freeze on new U. N. members to a happy end last night by admitting 16 nations.

In a jubilant session, the Assembly overwhelmingly approved the Security Council's dramatic recommendation of the 16, boosting total U. N. membership to 76.

Arrangements were made today for the 12 non-Communist and four Red nations to take their seats at once.

The Security Council also prepared to meet again today to vote on a U. S. resolution that the next Assembly session should consider the application of Japan.

Japan's exclusion — along with Outer Mongolia — east the only shadow over the proceedings. Of the 18 applicants originally proposed for acceptance in a package deal, they were the only two not to make the grade. Because Nationalist China's veto kept Outer Mongolia out, the Soviets vetoed the Japanese.

Nine In Red Bloc
These were the new additions to the U. N. roster:

To the Soviet bloc, now a group of nine members — Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania.

On the non-Communist side — Ireland, Portugal, Italy, Austria, Finland and Spain, all European; and Libya, Jordan, Ceylon, Nepal, Cambodia and Laos, recruits for the Asian-Arab bloc.

When Spain, last of the 16 nations to apply, was accepted, the Assembly hall resounded with 26 seconds of applause.

In an emotional speech, Assembly President Jose Mara of Chile declared the admission of the 16 would give new vigor to the U. N.

The sudden turn of events came less than 24 hours after Russia and Nationalist China had torpedoed the original 18-nation package plan with their first exchange of vetoes and left delegates with little hope of progress on the membership problem this year.

Reds Make Play
Delegates sensed something important was in the air yesterday when Russia suddenly called for an "urgent" council meeting. Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev quickly got to the point. After blasting Nationalist China's veto of Outer Mongolia as the cause for the package plan's failure, he made this dramatic announcement:

"Wishing to cooperate, the Soviet Union withdraws its negative vote to the series of countries. The Soviet Union will vote in favor of their admission with the exception of Japan, bearing in mind that the question of Japan and the Mongolian Peoples Republic (Outer Mongolia) which did not yield positive recommendation be postponed for consideration by the next session of the Assembly."

Lancaster Studies Better Milk Sampling

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—City officials Wednesday began a study to tighten methods of sampling milk products in the wake of an epidemic of paratyphoid.

Meanwhile, Dr. Oscar Davis, county medical director, reported that health authorities in Wilmington, Del., had diagnosed three cases of paratyphoid — and determined that the three victims recently had been in Lancaster.

The epidemic here continues to wane. Only four new cases were reported Tuesday, bringing the total to 166.

Succeeds Father As Detroit Delegate

DETROIT (AP) — Democrat John Dingell Jr. swamped Republican Thomas E. Brennan Tuesday to succeed his late father as representative from Michigan's heavily Democratic 15th Congressional District.

Official final returns from the district's 322 precincts gave 29-year-old Dingell 19,624 votes to 6,106 for the 26-year-old Republican attorney.

The district, which is entirely within the city of Detroit, had been represented by John Dingell Sr., also a Democrat, from its formation in 1933 until his death last September. The elder Dingell won the 1954 election by a 3-1 margin.

WHAT HAPPENED TO TWO LEES ON C.A.A. AND C.A.B?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is an ABC on two men named Lee who lost their jobs on the CAA and CAB. Sound confusing? It is. Even telling the difference between CAA and CAB gets confusing. Now, with politics involved, things are worse.

Just keep this in mind about the two Lees before getting any deeper: One is Josh Lee; the other is Frederick B. Lee. Josh Lee, a Democrat, lost his job when his term was up; Frederick Lee, a Republican, was bounced.

CAB — Civil Aeronautics Board — is a five-man board which is the big boss of civil aviation. It says what airlines get what routes, writes the safety rules, investigates accidents, and decides who to blame for them. The CAB is answerable directly to the President. Josh Lee was a member of this five-man board.

Enforces CAB Orders
CAA — Civil Aeronautics Administration — carries out CAB's orders through teams of inspectors, operates flying facilities such as signals and radar warnings and airport control towers, and is supposed to foster the development of civil aviation in general.

The CAA — Frederick B. Lee was the administrator and boss here — is part of the Commerce Department. This made Lee answerable directly to Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

Here is what happened: Josh Lee, former Oklahoma senator, was appointed to two six-year terms on the five-man CAB by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

President Eisenhower announced Dec. 8 he would replace him with another Democrat, G. Joseph Minetti of New York, when his second term ends Dec. 31.

This might not have attracted much attention if Frederick B. Lee had not bounded into the news about the same time. Republican Secretary Weeks forced Lee, a Vermont Republican, to resign as boss of CAA, a job Eisenhower gave him in 1954. On Dec. 10 Eisenhower announced he would be replaced by another Republican, Charles J. Lowen Jr.

The Democrats jumped on this, not so much on the exit of Democrat Josh Lee as on the firing of Republican Frederick B. Lee, but linked the two departures. The big question — not fully answered yet: Why was Frederick B. Lee forced to resign?

In a letter sent with his resignation to Eisenhower, F. B. Lee said Weeks told him they weren't getting along satisfactorily. But, Lee informed newsmen, Weeks had never told him what was wrong.

Then Weeks' undersecretary of commerce, Louis S. Rothschild, got into the act with an explanation which explained little. He said Lee was asked to quit because of an "accumulation of stresses detrimental to the sound development of civil aviation."

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), chairman of the Senate's subcommittee on aviation, said his group would investigate the whole thing in January.

He said Frederick B. Lee had been let out because he didn't "knuckle under" to Weeks and Rothschild so they could be the big bosses of aviation. He said Frederick B. Lee favored a big federal aid program to help build more airports while Weeks and Rothschild wanted a "railroad-slanted transportation policy." Then he took another crack at Rothschild. He said Minetti, picked by the Republicans to succeed Josh Lee on the CAB, although a Democrat, was a "buddy" of Rothschild.

The sacking of Frederick B. Lee from the CAA, Monroney said, "is all part of a pattern which included the blocking of the reappointment of Josh Lee (to the CAB). Ross Rizley (a Republican and chairman of the CAB) is soon to be appointed a federal judge. And Weeks will have another position to fill in his grab for control of aviation."

ASK BIG FIGHT ON DIXON-YATES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic foes of the repudiated Dixon-Yates contract want Congress to take a direct hand in a "no holds barred" court fight against the private power group's claim for $12 million in damages.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) announced Tuesday he plans to introduce a resolution calling for appointment of a special counsel to fight the Dixon-Yates suit, filed earlier in the day at the U.S. Court of Claims.

Kefauver thus joined Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.), who said such a special lawyer should make certain the Justice Department puts up "no milk toast defense" against the Dixon-Yates claim. The Justice Department regularly defends the government in suits against it.

There was no immediate comment from the department.

To Seek Law Violations
Anderson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said the proposed special counsel should also hunt for evidence of possible law violations in connection with negotiations which led up to the signing of the power contract more than a year ago.

Both Anderson and Kefauver, who heads a Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee which held hearings on the contract, indicated plainly they do not want to trust the Justice Department to handle the claim case alone.

Torso Slayer Is Denied New Trial

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—Francis X. Ballem, convicted Bywood torso slayer, has been denied a new trial. Delaware County Judge William R. Toal Tuesday ordered that Ballem be brought into court here next Friday for sentencing.

Ballem was convicted last Jan. 27 of first degree murder in the slaying of John Dopriak, 33, Chester, Pa., dishwasher.

Judge Toal said in his 23-page opinion, "evidence in this case es-

MEANEY LINKS TITO, NEHRU WITH COMMIES

NEW YORK (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany says Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India and Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia are "aides and allies of communism."

The nation's top labor leader also attacked "liberals" in this country in a speech Tuesday before the National Religion and Labor Foundation.

He said he was disturbed that many U. S. "liberals" are "stone silent" about the loss of human rights in Soviet-dominated countries.

Defies Neutralism
Speaking of Nehru and Tito, he said no country can be neutral in the struggle between communism and democracy.

"Nehru and Tito are not neutral," he said. They are aides and allies of communism in fact and in effect, if not in diplomatic verbiage."

Establishes overwhelmingly the guilt of the defendant. The jurist presided at Ballem's trial.

the struggle between communism and democracy.

"Nehru and Tito are not neutral," he said. They are aides and allies of communism in fact and in effect, if not in diplomatic verbiage."

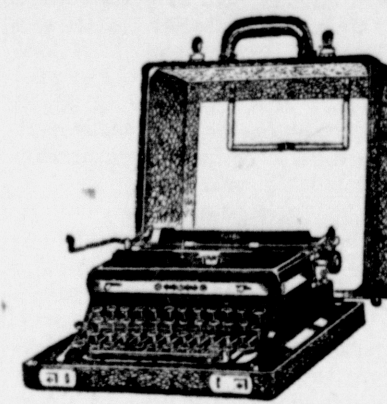

Meany's speech was made shortly before the announcement in New Delhi of a cooperation pact signed by India and the Soviet Union.

Brings Formal Protest
His remarks brought a formal protest later in the day from K. T. Tripathi, general secretary of the Indian National Trades Council. Tripathi said the attack on Nehru would have "most unfortunate repercussions" throughout Asia.
